B-29 Sets Non-Stop Long Distance Record

SUPERFORT IS WINGING EAST FROM PACIFIC

Bomber With Crew of Specially Picked Men Expected to Make Capital During Afternoon

BEATS BRITISH MARK

BULLETIN
Washington, Nov. 20—(P)—A B-29 which came all the way from Guam without a stop landed here this afternoon, and the Army Air Forces immediately claimed a world's distance record. The plane hit the runway at the National Airport at 1:35 p. m. (EST), approximately 35 hours and some 8,000 miles after it left Guam. The recognized distance record is 7,158.44 miles, set by the British in 1938 in a flight from Egypt to Australia.

Washington, Nov. 20—(P)—The army announced today that a B-29, winging its way eastward from Guam, has set a non-stop distance record—and is still flying.

The B-29 passed over La Crosse, Wis., at 9:30 a. m. EST. This is 7,368 miles from Guam, the Army Air Forces said.

The Superfortress had broken the record at that point.

The B-29 is expected to arrive at Washington National Airport at about 1:30 p. m. (EST) today.

The previous mark of 7,158.44 miles was hung up by the British in 1938, flying from Egypt to Australia.

Unlike previous nonstop attempts, this time there was no previous announcement that the flight was under way.

Last month three Superfortresses, carrying three generals, tried for a non-stop record in a flight from Japan, but failed because of unexpected headwinds.

Vinson Warns Nation Against Complacency

Chicago, Nov. 20—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson said today the United States must do these three things to avoid still another world war:

Remain powerful, support international discussion to keep the peace and provide leadership for a world prosperity.

In an address prepared for the 27th national American Legion convention, Vinson said:

"We cannot follow the shortsighted policy of reclining in our easy chairs and wallowing in the luxury of the war is over. If we do that, we shall suddenly learn that we are enjoying only the breathing spell before the next war."

The United States must remember the treasury chief added, that "if the non-aggressor nations are strong, the petty international despot will, in all likelihood, be deterred from his nefarious plans."

At the same time, he continued, "we cannot let international problems go by default."

It was General "Ike's" Day at the Legion's convention today.

The five star general of the army Dwight D. Eisenhower, arrived by train from Boone, Ia., where his wife lay ill, for an all-day round of affairs arranged by the Legion.

More Entries Received For Victory Loan Parade Nov. 24

New entries are being received for some of the divisions in the mammoth Victory Loan parade Saturday afternoon in Warren that the committee in charge finds it difficult to keep up with them.

This morning new additions to the floats were reported as follows: American Red Cross, North Warren Civic Club, Valentine Disposal, Beaty School, the Eolar Electric Co., Marconi Club.

Word was also received that the National Guard unit from Ridgway has decided to appear in the parade, as well as the CIO Union from the Sylvania Plants.

New automobiles that will be seen in the parade are Pontiac, Ford, Buick, Chevrolet and Oldsmobile.

Quaker City Gobblers Jailed for Jaywalking

Philadelphia, Nov. 20—(P)—Four turkeys, discovered jay-walking in south Philadelphia, are in a police cell today.

Police Officer Joseph Cicolese, who found the birds dodging traffic, said they will remain in jail until claimed "which should be before Thanksgiving."

Senate Probe Of Shawmut Is Contemplated

Washington, Nov. 20—(P)—A senate investigation may supplement an FBI inquiry into the 40 year old receivership of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad in Pennsylvania.

The railroad operates the Shawmut Mining Company, whose miners at Force, Pa., recently protested sanitary conditions in the "Company Town."

Receivers of the railroad, meanwhile, have been ordered to "show cause" at a federal court hearing in Pittsburgh next Tuesday why they should not be removed. Senator Guffey (D-Pa.) in a statement in the Congressional Record, has called the case "a very gross abuse" of the bankruptcy laws.

This receivership would be included in a senate investigation being sought by Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Senator Reed (R-Kan.) of the Interstate Commerce Committee into some 76 railroads now in insolvency proceedings, particularly those in receivership 12 years or more.

The Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern case was called to the senators' attention by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Charles (Turn to Page Nine)

Trumans To See Army-Navy Game

Washington, Nov. 20—(P)—President Truman will go to Philadelphia, Saturday, December 1, to attend the Army-Navy football game.

The White House said the president, Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, will travel by train, leaving here Saturday morning and returning to Washington that night.

In accordance with custom, the president will sit on one side of the field—the army side in this case—during the first half, and on the navy side during the second half.

This is the president's first out of town engagement since he cancelled a series of scheduled fall trips into North Carolina, Georgia, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas, because of matters needing his attention here.

WANTS WAGE ISSUE DISCUSSED AT PARLEY

Ellsworth, Nov. 20—(P)—One local, the United Mine Workers of America agrees with CIO President Philip Murray that wages should be on the agenda of the labor-management conference in Washington.

It is Ellsworth Local in which Murray held a union card all the years he was vice president of the UMWA. Members adopted a resolution asking consideration of wages, and sent it to the conference.

UMWA President John L. Lewis opposed discussion of wages at the parley.

CHINESE REDS ENTER CAPITAL OF MANCHURIA

Communists Race With Nationalists, Already 35 Miles Inside Vital Industrial Territory

SOVIET CONDITIONS

By SPENCER MOOSA
Chungking, Nov. 20—(P)—Chinese Communist troops were reported entering Manchuria's capital in force today in a race with rival Nationalist soldiers already 35 miles inside the vital industrial territory after a breakthrough in the south.

The China Times declared that 4,000 Communist troops had entered the capital of Changchun, but failed to say whether Russian occupation forces still were in the city.

The Times also asserted without confirmation elsewhere that new conferences between China and Russia on the tense Manchurian situation would begin soon, either in Moscow or Chungking.

Unofficial reports in Chungking said the Russians had laid down 20 conditions which the Nationalists must meet before being allowed to fly troops into Manchuria, making an overland drive necessary.

Chungking newspapers asserted this drive already was well under way, with Nationalist troops racing 25 miles almost unopposed beyond positions a dozen miles inside Manchuria to within 190 miles of the great industrial city of Mukden.

With these well-equipped, American-trained troops apparently on the loose after having broken through the Chinese Communist line along the great wall, the Communist press leveled new charges at the United States.

The United States is converting China into "an American colony," the Communist Daily News charged.

The activities of the American forces have enraged all patriotic Chinese, the newspaper asserted. It compared it with the "imperialism" of the British in India, French in Indo-China and the (Turn to Page Nine)

Not Time To Declare Gov. Martin Says

Harrisburg, Nov. 20—(P)—Governor Martin said today he has made up his mind about his political plans for 1946 but "it isn't time yet to make my announcement."

Martin made the statement at a news conference when asked if he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate next year.

"I always make things in stride," he said. "If anybody made a definite announcement at this time it would interfere with the orderly procedure."

"I'm not interested in personal, political advancement but I am interested in the general advancement of Pennsylvania and for that reason I am not ready to make any announcement of my personal part in politics in 1946."

The next in the senate is now held by U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey, Democrat, who is expected to seek a third term.

Asked if he had given any thought to his successor as governor, Martin replied:

"It seems as if more people than usual are ready to assume that burden. The Republicans are in the best shape as far as material for U. S. senator, governor and the other offices than we have been in years. There is plenty of magnificent material."

NOTORIOUS OUTLAW IS STILL AT LARGE

Oklahoma City, Nov. 20—(P)—Matt Kimes, notorious boy leader of outlaw gangs of the 1920's, was believed to be hiding somewhere in the hilly fastnesses of eastern Oklahoma today and officers scoured the region but admitted the trail was growing colder.

Kimes, charged with robbing the First State Bank of Morton, Tex., of $17,000 Sept. 5 while on leave from the Oklahoma penitentiary, had left no definite trace since eluding capture after taking $1,200 from a Wewoka, Okla., theater manager Sunday night.

Pearl Harbor Probers Told Roosevelt Said Jap Mistake Would Lead Us Into Conflict

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 20—(P)—The late Navy Secretary Frank Knox predicted on January 24, 1941, that if war with Japan occurred, hostilities might begin with a surprise attack upon the Pacific fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor.

His prediction was made in a letter to Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of war, and was disclosed in an exchange of correspondence made public today by the congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee.

The Knox letter, dated more than 10 months prior to the Japanese strike at the base, said that "if war eventuates with Japan, it is believed easily possible that hostilities would be initiated by a surprise attack upon the fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor."

Admiral J. Richardson testified today the late president was "rather loathe" to increase the manpower of the Pacific fleet in midsummer, 1940.

Richardson recounted a series of conferences he held with the president, Cordell Hull, then secretary of state, and others shortly after the fall of France.

The hesitated admiral, who was relieved of command of the Pacific fleet 10 months before the Japanese sneak attack, testified that in a three-hour conference at the White House on July 8, 1940, he stressed what he felt was the need for more men to man the ships of the fleet.

The hesitated admiral, reading from a memorandum, said he asked Mr. Roosevelt if "we were going to enter the war."

The president replied, the witness said, "that if the Japanese attacked Thailand or the Kra peninsula, or the Dutch East Indies, we would not enter the war, that even if they attacked the Philippines he doubted whether we would enter the war, but that they could not always avoid making mistakes and that as the war continued and the area of operations expanded, sooner or later they would make a mistake and we would enter the war."

Committee attaches announced as the hearing resumed that Admiral William D. Leahy, President Roosevelt's chief of staff during the war, would testify during the day.

Richardson testified that Leahy was present at one of Richardson's conferences with the late president.

Barkley, who is chairman of the inquiry group, told a reporter that Richardson's "very frank statement" ought to set at rest any reports that Mr. Roosevelt was not doing what he could to avoid a clash with Japan.

"That doesn't sound very much like Mr. Roosevelt was trying to get us into war, does it?" the Kentuckian asked.

But Republican members of the committee said they wanted to hear more from Richardson, recalled to the stand today, before they form any opinion.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) noted in an interview the belief that the critical period of American relations with Japan came after Richardson's 1940 visit to the White House.

"The critical months were in 1941," Ferguson said. "We began exchanging notes with Japan about April of that year. I want to hear all of the story of our (Turn to Page Nine)

Detroit Wage Dispute Near A Showdown

By the Associated Press

The long and bitter wage dispute between the CIO United Automobile Workers and General Motors Corporation appeared headed for another showdown today. Strike action, which would affect some 300,000 of the nation's automobile workers, was regarded as possible by one union spokesman.

The union's latest move in its drive to obtain a 30 per cent wage rate increase for auto workers was its proposal to submit the controversy to arbitration. General Motors had until 4 p. m. E. S. T. today to reply to the union's offer.

The action came in Detroit from delegates to the General Motors council of the CIO-UAW, representing more than 300,000 workers, and was termed by R. J. Thomas, CIO-UAW president as "not an ultimatum," but as "the last resort" to peaceful settlement.

The other main trouble spot along the nation's labor front was in Chicago while across the country some 150 labor disputes kept idle about 275,000 workers.

The strike of 8,700 telephone operators crippled long distance service in Chicago and paralyzed service in manual switchboards in 115 communities in Illinois and two Indiana counties. A union official in New York said long lines operators throughout the country have refused to handle long distance calls to and from Chicago.

Emergency calls were being handled in many communities while in Chicago 52 employees handled switchboards normally manned by 200 in the long distance room. The number of non-striking employees staying away from work because of refusal to cross picket lines was not immediately determined.

Yamashita Trial Opens Wednesday

Manila, Nov. 20—(P)—Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, defeated in his latest attempt to escape death as a war criminal, must begin his defense tomorrow.

Yamashita appeared composed and once smiled broadly today although his pleas for a "not guilty" verdict for a delay in presentation of his defense both were denied by the U. S. military commission trying him.

In pleading for dismissal of the charges against Yamashita—who is accused of permitting countless atrocities by troops of his Philippine command—counsel argued that only two witnesses, both accused as collaborators, even remotely linked Yamashita with the horrors described daily by other witnesses.

Shawmut Officials Facing Charges

Ridgway, Nov. 20—(P)—Elk County District Attorney Edward J. Blatt said a hearing has been set for 4 p. m. today on charges brought by Dr. Elizabeth Hayes, who left no definite trace since eluding capture after taking $1,200 from a Wewoka, Okla., theater manager Sunday night.

Warrants issued yesterday are in the hands of Constable P. J. Duffee, Blatt declared. He added: "I do not think they will be served before this afternoon."

Dr. Hayes, whose resignation as physician for Shawmut Mining Co. last summer was followed by a still-continuing strike of 450 miners, filed complaints naming F. D. Lambert, general manager, and David Bell, superintendent, of Shawmut, and Francis Erich.

Thomas Gregory, Shawmut attorney, said the office was needed for a new doctor and that Dr. Hayes had indicated she would not comply with a request to vacate it.

Maternity Hospital Has Unusual Record

Benton, Ill., Nov. 20—(P)—Two women, each bearing the name of Mrs. Earl Sanders, who live on the same street in the same block and each the mother of three sons, occupy the same ward in nearby West Frankfort's Union hospital.

Within the same hour each woman gave birth to a daughter. Dr. G. G. Moore was the busy attending physician for both women.

Truth Serum Testimony In Trial At Erie

Erie, Nov. 20—(P)—Investigation of the Wilkinson slaying which resulted in a murder charge against Frank L. Bromley, Jr., of Corry, was bitterly contested today by defense attorneys in making their summary at Bromley's murder trial.

After reviewing the investigation conducted by Sheriff Fred Lambert and state police, Attorney Paul Stephany told the jurors:

"You have a story which is a fanciful contention based upon a diabolical scheme conceived by a warped and twisted mind in an over zealous effort to break this case at any cost."

Stephany said he intended no criticism of the district attorney, Burton R. Laub.

Following the prosecution's summary this afternoon, Judge J. Orin Waite was to charge the jury.

Erie, Nov. 20—(P)—Dr. Edward Drozski, former Erie county prison physician, told a murder trial jury that two injections of "truth serum" failed to shake the story of Frank L. Bromley, Jr., 23, that he had nothing to do with the killing of a sailor in 1942.

Dr. Drozski went on the stand late yesterday as a defense witness, despite objections of the prosecution, in Bromley's trial on a charge of killing Chief Petty Officer Lloyd Wilkinson on Good Friday morning, in 1942, along a lonely road near North East.

The "truth serum," said Dr. Drozski, is a powerful hypnotic drug. When it is given to a patient, and he is then questioned, the drug brings out things hidden in his subconscious mind.

Each time Bromley was given an injection, he was questioned six (Turn to Page Nine)

Separatist Disturbances Are Quelled

Teheran, Nov. 20—(P)—Iranian troops dispatched to Azarbaijan province to quell separatist disturbances there were halted at Kazvin today by Russian authorities and ordered to return to Tehran, the Iranian government said.

Four battalions of troops and gendarmes had been moving slowly northward from Tehran, apparently with the tacit consent of the Russian army commander, to quell the outbreaks in which seven already have been reported killed.

Kazvin is about 100 miles northeast of Tehran and approximately one-third of the distance between the Iranian capital and Tabriz, Azerbaijan's largest city.

The troops moved to reinforce government garrisons consisting of two infantry battalions, one battalion of motorized troops, the latter accompanied by two American advisors from Colonel Norman Schwarzkopf's police advisory mission in Iran.

Committees at Conference Are Criticized

Washington, Nov. 20—(P)—Management spokesmen, complaining of what they termed "unrealistic" work being done in committees of the labor-management conference hinted today they might file separate reports for conference consideration.

This development came as the "Big Six"—the heads of the two industry and four labor organizations represented—looked action designed to prevent any of the committees from winding up in deadlocked disagreement.

The six set themselves up as a consultative body to which any floundering committee could bring its problems before arriving at an impasse.

Of the six spade-work committees, only one has filed a progress report. All reports were called for on Friday.

A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers reported that industry delegates want changes in a proposed report of the committee on settlement of disputes arising under existing labor contracts. As written, the report recommends voluntary arbitration as the final step in achieving peaceable settlement.

SCORE OF SILENT AND ODDLY-GARBED HENCHMEN OF HITLER GO ON TRIAL AT NUERNBERG

What disposition Will Be Made of Reports of Alienists On Hess' Mental Condition Has Not Yet Been Announced

NO LEGAL FURBELOWS AT START OF CASE

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuernberg, Nov. 20—(P)—A strangely assorted score of gloomy Nazis sat dejectedly today before an international military tribunal and heard themselves formally accused of Nazi war crimes, the murder of 10,000,000 Europeans, plunder, horror and torture.

Throughout the opening session of the historic trial for their lives, Hitlerian followers such as corpulent Hermann Goering, vague Rudolf Hess and defiant Field Marshal Wilhelm Kietel listened through earphones while spokesmen of the nations which crushed their hierarchy recited crimes the world had never before witnessed.

By turns, prosecutors of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia droned through the four counts of the 24,000-word indictment accusing the last of the leading Nazis of conspiracy to commit crimes against the peace, actual commission of crimes against the peace, war crimes and crimes against humanity.

Even the appendices containing individual charges against the 20 defendants were read, meaning that the men who terrorized Europe only a year ago could not be arraigned until the Wednesday session.

The Nazis sometimes sat with earphones clasped on to hear translations in German piped to them as the prosecutors read in English, French and Russian. Robed attorneys sat beside them.

Of the 24 originally indicted, one is at large, two are too ill to attend and one has committed suicide. Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, was being tried in absentia. Robert Ley, the labor leader, took his own life. Ernest Kaltenbrunner of the Gestapo and Gustav Krupp von Bohlen and Halbach were ill.

After the indictments are read in full, each defendant will plead either "guilty" or "not guilty." Then the prosecution will make its opening statement.

Rudolf Hess, an almost impenetrable grin playing about his sunken mouth, was lined up in the dock with the Nazi defendants—20 in all. The 21st, Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, is being tried in absentia.

During the recess for lunch, the defendants remained in the court and ate heartily from American army mess kits. Goering's appetite was particularly keen.

When the court was cleared, the Nazis leaped up and began shaking hands with each other enthusiastically. Though many had occupied adjacent cells for months, solitary confinement had restricted their conversations and many were able to exchange words for the first time since reaching Nuernberg.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former Reichsbank president, engaged Albert Speer, Reichminister for production, in lively banter, commenting:

Five Hurt In Accident Near Farm Colony

State Police from the local substation were called out about 11:45 p. m. Monday to investigate a two-way crash which occurred near the Farm Colony on Route 62 between Warren and Russell and sent five persons to Warren General Hospital for treatment. No one of the five is believed to be critically injured but all are still under care in the hospital this afternoon.

According to the police, the accident occurred when a 1935 Dodge sedan owned by Clarence Hyde, North Warren, and operated by Frederick Witz, Brockway RD 1, veered across the highway and crashed into a 1940 Dodge club coupe operated by 2nd Lt. Vincent C. Niball, 314 Foote avenue, Jamestown, N. Y. Police are continuing their investigation and have not yet decided what action will be taken.

Mr. Hyde, aged 57, suffered a cut over his right eye, another on his left hand and had all his teeth knocked out. Witz, the driver, was least injured of all, receiving a cut on his face beneath the nose. He told police he had recently been discharged from the navy, serving three months before it was found he was under age, but that he had reenlisted and would report to Pittsburgh on November 27.

Also in this car was Eleanor Durbin, aged 18, of 418 Pennsylvania avenue, west, Warren, who had a couple of teeth knocked out and received cuts and bruises on both knees.

Lt. Niball, en route home from Washington, D. C., for a ten-day leave in Jamestown, had a deep laceration on his left knee, a cut on his chin and a possible fracture of the jaw. He was accompanied by T/5 Anthony Matyka, 28, of South Hadley Falls, Mass., most seriously injured of the group. A deep laceration on the left side of his neck and one ear nearly torn off had resulted in profuse bleeding and he is suffering from shock.

The Niball car, valued at about $900, is a total loss, according to the investigating officer, the entire (Turn to Page Nine)

Sheffield Over Top In Loan Drive To Tune of 108.7 Pct.

Today Sheffield should be the proudest community in Warren county. The War Finance Committee certainly is proud of them because already they have oversold their quota of Victory Bonds, and it was a sizable quota, too. The fine spirit and cooperation shown in Sheffield should be a real inspiration to the rest of the county to quickly sell the balance of their quotas. This explodes once and for all the pessimistic talk that it couldn't be done. It has been done and Sheffield stands ready to prove it.

Here's Sheffield's record:

MEADVILLE UNION IS ENJOINED BY WRIT.

Meadville, Nov. 20—(P)—Officers of Local 110, AFL-International Association of Machinists, maintained silence today in the face of a preliminary injunction which prohibited them "from refusing admittance of non-union salaried workers" to the Meadville plants of Talon, Inc., maker of zippers.

Union officials questioned about probable action said they had no comment to make at this time.

The injunction was handed down yesterday by Judge O. Clare Kent who set 10 a. m. Friday for a hearing.

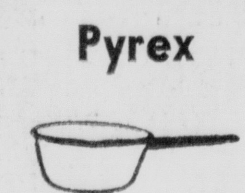

William F. McIntyre, industrial relations manager of Talon, announced all non-union salaried employees here have been called back to work immediately.

HURT IN CRASH

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin, of Wesleyville, were admitted to Corry Hospital late Saturday afternoon after they had been injured when their car skidded on Route 6 near Wrightsville. Mrs. Rust suffered a fractured collarbone and Mrs. Rust received several cuts and abrasions. Relatives took them to their home at Wesleyville Sunday afternoon.

Fine Address Is Delivered To Ministers

The Rev. Edward K. Rogers, pastor of the First Lutheran church, was the speaker at the meeting of the Warren County Ministerial Association, held at the YMCA yesterday forenoon. His subject was "The Returning Service Man Looks at the Church."

It was the speaker's opinion that, in the main, what the soldiers were when they left for the service they will be when they return. The soldier who was well instructed and well grounded in his religious life was the one who stood best the stress and the strain of army life.

On the strength of this observation, Rev. Rogers urged that more stress should be laid on instruction of our people in matters pertaining to fundamental teachings of the church. "We can well afford to sacrifice or forget a lot of the frills, entertainments and social functions that occupy our time in churches for the most important work of religious instruction," he said. "Many of the soldiers will want to know just what the church does believe and teach, and they will demand that the church be positive in its stand."

It was the feeling of the speaker that those churches which have neglected their service people, which have not kept in touch with them, will have difficulty in interesting them in church work as they return home. He urged that it might be expedient to organize parish veterans' clubs to enable them to keep alive the comradeship peculiar to service people's life.

The devotional part of the program was conducted by Rev. B. F. Armstrong, The president, Rev. P. Elmer Landerdahl, presided.

The next meeting will be held Monday, December 3, when the Rev. J. F. Collins, 111 Second avenue, will speak on "County Local Option."

PENELEC VOTE

The result of the recent vote taken among the foremen employed by the Pennsylvania Electric Company throughout the territory served by the utility has been announced by the NLRB at Pittsburgh as having been 22 in favor of a strike and 13 against. Apparently many of the foremen did not vote as about sixty were supposed to be eligible. The foremen want the AFL-International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers recognized as their bargaining agent with the company and are said to be dissatisfied over the recent adjustment upward of wage on a retroactive basis in which they did not share as did other construction and maintenance employees.

Girls From Clarendon In Kane Episode

Kane Republican: A 15-year-old Clarendon girl found in an unconscious condition lying in the doorway of a Greeves street business entrance early Monday gave a brief and state police a merry chase before the case was cleared.

Tales of abduction, attack and rape were discounted by state and borough police after a rapid check up and examination of the girl at the Community Hospital.

According to police report, two Clarendon girls, both minors, started to hitch-hike to Kane Sunday evening and were picked up in a car containing two Ludlow men and a Kane soldier.

They came here and then went to Bradford with the men, returning to Kane and going to Ludlow where they were let out of the car. The men had secured whiskey here and at Ludlow and all had been drinking.

After being let out of the car at Ludlow, the girls started hitch-hiking at a road intersection and the two Ludlow men returned and picked them up, bringing them back to Kane. The one girl collapsed in the doorway of a business building, where her crying attracted attention and police were summoned. Patrolman Bernard Rose had the girl removed to the Community Hospital at 6 a. m. As a result of conflicting stories, state and borough police began an immediate investigation and ordered a medical examination of the girl. Reports indicated that she was intoxicated and had not been attacked. She was slated to be released from the hospital and returned to her home.

BARBER SHOP HOURS
Barber shops of the borough will be open all day Wednesday until six o'clock owing to the Thursday holiday closing.

OLD BARBER
Melvin C. Simpson, prominent resident of Polk for 40 years, died Sunday at his home, following an illness of 18 months. Mr. Simpson was born June 24, 1879, in Leesburg and moved to Polk 40 years ago to take a position as an employee of the State Training School. Later Mr. Simpson resigned this position and purchased a barber shop which he conducted in Polk during the past 34 years.

When the tomb of King Tut in Egypt was opened, chairs and other gilded items were found intact, and in good condition.

Men and Women In the Service

Silver Star Medal Given Posthumously

In compliance with earlier information from the office of the adjutant general that the Silver Star Medal had been posthumously awarded their son, Sgt. Richard E. Goodard, Mr. and Mrs. Burt J. Goodard, Charters Valley, were personally presented the decoration on November 19 by Captain Grunzweig, of the U. S. Army Recruiting office, 303 Second avenue, this city.

The decoration, given by direction of The President, is accompanied by the following citation: "For gallantry in action near Marikina, Philippine Islands, on 11 June 1945. On this date, Sergeant Goodard was a member of a small patrol that was advancing over tortuous mountain terrain to investigate a draw on the slope of Mt. Purro. As he led the patrol forward, he walked into the fire lane of a well-camouflaged enemy position, and was immediately cut down by its fire. He was mortally wounded and unable to move. An attempt was made to rescue him, but he warned his men away rather than risk their becoming casualties. Summoning all his fast-waning strength, he called out the location of the hostile emplacement and best route of approach before he died. This enabled the patrol to knock out the installation and continue on its mission. Sergeant Goodard's gallant action was a great inspiration to his men and is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service."

STAFF SERGEANT
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sontag.

103 Cayuga avenue, have received word from their son, Don, that he has been promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant. At present he is recovering from an appendectomy performed November 9 on Tinian, where he is currently stationed.

TO CADET SCHOOL
According to information just received from the Merchant Marine Cadet Corps headquarters, Richard Irwin Randall, 18, of 107 Jackson avenue, has reported to the cadet basic school at San Mateo, Calif., following his appointment as cadet-midshipman. Upon completion of the basic training, he will be assigned to sea duty aboard a merchant vessel for a period of six to eight months, after which he will report to the academy at King's Point, N. Y. Upon graduation there, he will be licensed as a third mate and commissioned an ensign in the Maritime Service and U. S. Naval Reserve.

TO BE REASSIGNED
The Army Ground and Service Forces headquarters at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., reports that Pvt. Leonard M. Swanson, son of Mrs. Charlotte Swanson, 1512 Pennsylvania avenue, east, is currently stationed at that center awaiting reassignment to a post within the United States. Pvt. Swanson was recently returned to the States after serving 18 months in Hawaii, Guam, Leyte and New Guinea as an assistant tank driver and machine gunner in the Infantry Armored. His decorations include the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three campaign stars, the Philippine Liberation ribbon, American Theatre of operations medal and the Distinguished Unit badge.

IS OLD TIMER
M. C. Knopf, ACMM, USN, who has been in the navy for eighteen and one-half years, arrived home Saturday from Camp Kearney, Calif., to spend 30-days leave with his mother and sisters, 104 Onondaga avenue. En route to Warren, he visited with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mahood, South Gate, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Giegerich, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan, Santa Monica; and Mrs. M. B. Eagan, Los Angeles.

TO GO OVERSEAS
Pvt. Robert J. Lundberg is spending a 15-day furlough at his home in North Warren after completing his course at airplane mechanic's school at Keesler Field, Miss. He will report to Quantico, N. C., for overseas assignment.

NAVY RELEASES
F. A. Bryan, S. 1/c, of 114 Conewango avenue, and John Niedzialic, E1 2/c, of 2037 Pennsylvania avenue, west, have been honorably discharged from naval service at the Bainbridge, Md., separation center.

TWO FROM COUNTY ASSIGNED TO PRINCETON
Fleet dispatches just received by the Times-Mirror indicate that two Warren county men have been assigned to duty on the USS Princeton, a new Essex-class aircraft carrier soon to be commissioned. They are Warren E. Carr, seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carr, Youngsville, who formerly attended high school at that place; and Robert L. Graham, seaman first class, of Grand Valley. Members of the

How much can you pay?

Would you think if the clerk at your favorite store asked to see what you had in your wallet before he decided what to charge you for a shirt?

Or if, just because you happened to have some money saved up, you were asked to pay more than other people for a haircut, a movie ticket, or even such important items as rent, food and clothing.

That's exactly the kind of reasoning UAW-CIO leaders are using in their wage demands on General Motors—

They point to funds we have saved up over the years to expand and improve our plants and provide more jobs and more production. They say, "Give us that in higher wages."

General Motors does not go along with that kind of reasoning. People should not have to pay more just because they have a savings account—

For many years we have used our savings to expand capacity, create more jobs and provide greater values.

And we intend to keep on doing just that. We are, at present, embarked on a very important reconversion and postwar expansion program. Our objective, now as always—to produce more and better things for more people.

ONE MORE DIFFICULT PROBLEM

In accepting a place on the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry on Palestine, this government has taken on another difficult problem. It also has accepted the role which America's strength and influence make inevitable. We are perhaps the biggest of the Big Three, when all the assets are counted. Any trouble in the world concerns us, for it will affect us in the end whether we ignore it or not.

Thus far we have not done too well in the world's sorry aftermath of war. We run the risk of dangerous involvements in China. We have remained diplomatically aloof from the struggle in Indonesia and Indo-China, while allowing our arms to be used in the fighting there. Let us hope we shall do better with the problem of Palestine.

The British can use some help. They have handled the problem rather badly, though it is doubtful that any power could have handled it well. But Britain's delays and inconsistencies of the past 25 years, intensified from 1939 to the present, can't be said to represent the happiest efforts to solve a sorry situation.

It was only natural that Foreign Minister Bevin's statement on Palestine should have proved unsatisfactory to both parties. Zionists are angry because he backed down on previous British promises of a national Jewish homeland in Palestine and proposed a Jewish "community" there. They foresee only trouble if the Jews are to be a minority in Palestine as they are in the rest of the world, abiding in the ancient homeland only by the majority's consent.

The Arabs are displeased because they view Zionism as an imperialistic movement which is perverting the humanitarian aim of finding a haven for the victims of Axis persecution. Their more extreme politicians favor an immediate and total ban of Jewish immigration into Palestine.

To reconcile these opposing views Mr. Bevin proposes a thorough inquiry in Europe and Palestine leading to interim recommendations and a permanent solution to be presented to the United Nations Conference, which Mr. Bevin would have assume trusteeship of a Palestine state.

Mr. Bevin seems convinced, even before the inquiry, that Palestine itself does not provide opportunity for grappling with the whole problem of Europe's surviving Jews.

It may be hoped that American members of the new inquiry committee will consider the possibilities of this long-range program, and that they will also give more immediate attention to the desperate plight of the ill, hungry and homeless survivors of Nazi-Fascist pogroms than Mr. Bevin apparently has planned.

EARLY THANKSGIVING

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania has marked Thanksgiving day at various times since 1711 but the earlier observances came in almost every month except November.

Warren J. Daniel, director of the Commonwealth's Land Office, dug through the ancient records preserved in the Department of Internal Affairs to find the oldest observance of the holiday in Pennsylvania August 15, 1711.

"That day," he reported, "was set aside by Queen Anne (of England) to ask for divine guidance prior to sending ships with an armed force to recover that part of North America called Canada."

Thirty-five years later Governor George Thomas of provincial Pennsylvania set July 24, 1746, as a day to give thanks for the victory of Britain over Scotland, France and Spain.

In 1775, June 19 was made a day of meditation and prayer in connection with the developing French and Indian war and in 1777, April 3 was proclaimed by the supreme council of Pennsylvania as a day "to ask the assistance of providence in the most just and necessary war"—the American revolution.

The following year, December 13 was a day of Thanksgiving in connection with France's entry into the war as an American ally and in 1780, President Joseph Reed of Pennsylvania set aside both April 25 and December 7 as Thanksgiving days.

Daniel said a movement was started in 1827 by Mrs. Sarah J. Hale for establishment of a definite day for Thanksgiving.

"Each year she would write to the president and the governors asking them that the last Thursday of November be set aside," he said. "By 1859, her efforts had established the day she advocated in thirty states."

What It Means

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—There's a story, or rather several stories, behind President Truman's new flag.

He broke out the new flag some days ago for the benefit of a press and radio conference. It wasn't much of a ceremony, as White House ceremonies ordinarily go, but it will make more than a footnote in the history of our national flags.

As flag-followers no doubt know by now, the new flag is the presidential coat-of-arms in color, surrounded by a circle of 48 white stars, on a field of blue. What they may not know is that the new presidential flag, as well as the old one officially adopted 29 years ago by President Wilson, were in some measure due to the doodling of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Before 1913, both the Army and Navy had their own flags for the commander in chief. At that time, President Wilson commissioned two young men to work on designs for a presidential flag that would represent both the Army and Navy.

These two young men were Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt and Commander Byron McCandless. What they produced was a coat of arms (the stylized American eagle, with wings spread, a striped shield over its body and clasping in its right claw an olive branch and in its left a cluster of arrows) with one white star in each corner of the flag.

THIS did well enough until the spring of 1945, when one of the original designers, President

Roosevelt, got to thinking that the newly created five-star fleet admirals and generals of the Army had five stars in their flags, while the commander in chief had only four. He called in Vice Admiral Wilson Brown (note how thoroughly the Navy has dominated the presidential flag picture) and ordered up a new flag.

Admiral Brown tossed the problem right back to McCandless, now a commodore in charge of the naval repair base at San Diego. The McCandless designs arrived at the White House after President Roosevelt's death, but President Truman was as interested as his predecessor.

Out of the discussions over designs came the suggestion from President Truman himself that the flag have 48 stars.

OUT of the discussions also came an interesting change in the presidential seal and coat of arms. For some reason unknown now, the eagle on the presidential seal had been facing to its own left since 1860, when it came into official use under President Rutherford B. Hayes.

This is not only contrary to heraldic custom, but as was pointed out by Chief of the heraldic section of the Army, Arthur DuBois, it had no basis in law and originally probably was an erroneous rendering of the Great Seal of the United States.

When it was further argued that the eagle should face the peaceful olive branch and not the warlike symbol of the cluster of arrows, the decision to twist the eagle's neck from left to right by executive order was settled.

That's happening thousands of times every day now and our operators are going all-out to get those calls through as quickly as possible. You can help, too, by making only the most urgent Long Distance calls in the evening

In the meantime, we're leaving no stone unturned to make up for all the things we couldn't do during the war, and to give you, as soon as possible, the Bell System's true standard of service. In the next year—to be specific about only one of an army of things to be done—2,100,000 miles of Long Distance telephone circuits will be added to the Bell System. That's more circuits, incidentally, than both Great Britain and France had before the war!

Is Planned At Youngsville

Youngsville, Nov. 19—Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Methodist church at 7:30 Wednesday evening Nov. 21st. Everyone in the community is invited. Rev. J. L. Strong will bring the Thanksgiving preaching message. Rev. Earl Carlson and Rev. E. W. Chitester will assist in the service. There will be special music including a double quartette from the Methodist choir.

LIGHTNING STRIKES BARN
Lightning struck the barn of Mr. and Mrs. William Crippen of York Hill, at about eleven o'clock Saturday evening setting the building on fire. The live stock were gotten out of the building but grain and other crops were lost as the building quickly burned to the ground.

The home which is not far away was not burned. There was a little insurance on the barn which will partly cover the loss. The barn was several miles from Youngsville but located as it is on a hill

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day. When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it can cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SELF-MEDICATION IS DANGEROUS

● The human body is the most complicated mechanism ever created. Not all of its processes are thoroughly understood even by those who devote their lives to a study of them. It is not surprising, therefore, that persons without medical training who attempt to diagnose and prescribe for their own serious ills often do themselves irreparable damage. Have respect for your body. You can never get another. When illness comes consult a physician . . . a licensed M.D. He is a specialist in his line just as we are in the business of filling his prescriptions.

Helen Olson Bride
Of Paul Gary In Ist Methodist Rite

Mr. and Mrs. J. Theodore Olson, 108 Parker street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Paul Gary, son of Mrs. Ellen Gary, 203 Prospect street.

The double ring ceremony witnessed by the immediate families, was performed at ten o'clock Saturday morning in the First Methodist church, Rev. Wayne Furman officiating. Evelyn Wolstencroft, organist, played as the guests were assembling and during the ceremony.

The bride chose black accessories with a suit of green wool and her shoulder corsage was of red roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. William R.
Dove, who wore a black pin-stripe suit, black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

Thomas S. Gary, of Philadelphia, was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for an extended wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and attended Edinboro State Teachers College.
She is now a member of the faculty at East street school building.

Mr. Gary, also a local high school graduate, has recently returned from 20 months, service in the South Pacific with the 118th
Naval Construction Battalion.

The bride-elect has been honored with a number of parties, her hostesses being the Seneca and East street teachers; Mrs. Jack
Shipman and Mrs. Robert W.
Schwartz; Mrs. Robert H. Sandblat; Mrs. William R. Dove and Mrs. Norman J. Olson; Mrs. Ellen
Gary gave a buffet dinner in honor of the couple.

Beatrice Brown Is Wed Thursday To Arlington Peterson

The Presbyterian church at North Warren was the scene of a pretty wedding at three o'clock
Thursday afternoon, when Beatrice Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Jackson Run, was united in marriage with Arlington Peterson, of Russell RD 1.
Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attendants were Frances Brown, sister of the bride, and William Birt, who was his cousin's best man.

The bride wore a blue suit, with brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses, and her bridesmaid wore a pink rose corsage with a suit of robin egg blue.

After the ceremony, the families and friends of the couple returned to the bride's home for a lovely reception. The bridal table was decorated with a basket of white pompoms, with candles and the wedding cake, with places for nine at the table.

Later in the evening the couple left for a short wedding trip and, upon their return, will be at home with the bride's parents for a time.

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was given by her sister, Mrs. Gladys Gebhart, Lander.

Janet Duncan To Wed Flying Capt.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Janet, to Captain Byron E. Mc-Kenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E.
McKenzie, of Akeley.

The announcement was made at a tea given by Mrs. Duncan Sunday afternoon at 607 Madison avenue. About 40 guests attended and each was presented with a pair of silver pilot's wings, with Janet and Byron, December 8, 1945" written on them.

The color scheme was in yellow and white, with yellow pompoms for the centerpiece and Mrs. Helen Morse and Miss Betty Jane Anderson presiding.

The wedding will take place in the First Methodist church on Saturday, December 8, at 7:30 p. m., the bride observing open church.

Lois Ann Bogart's
Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bogart, of North Warren gave a party at their home Saturday evening to announce the engagement of their daughter, Lois Ann, to George Niederer, technician fifth grade, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Niederer, also of North Warren.

Those present were Mrs. A. I.
Niederer, Mrs. Robert Stevenson, Mrs. Howard Lincoln, Mrs. Howard Rhoads, the Misses Joyce Anderson, Rachel Blomquist and Blanche Alcorn, North Warren;
Mrs. James Menard, Mrs. Harry
Fetterolf, Mrs. Frank Flood, Jr.,
Misses Harmon and Mary Armstrong, Warren.

The evening was spent in playing games, with prizes going to
Mrs. Fetterolf, Miss Harmon, Mrs.
Stevenson and Miss Blomquist.
Table appointments for the two course luncheon were done in yellow.

the United States annually.

Warren E. Miller
Tells Of "Amish"

Mrs. William M. Hill conducted the regular meeting of the Community Service Department at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon introducing Warren E. Miller, of the high school faculty, whose subject was "The Amish".

He told how a people, living in the 20th century are influenced by their religious customs and beliefs to such extent as to make them part of the 15th century.

Mr. Miller gave an average cross section view of their consistency in observing all their old religious teachings, religious beliefs, standards, and their quaint customs, showing that seldom will the pages of history reveal such long and faithful adherence to a religion. He told how it may seem autocratic to us but that they follow the Amish dictates unquestionably for it is the faith their forefathers chose to adopt.

Mrs. Leon Laskaris was hostess for tea which followed, with Miss Mabel Abbott and Miss Mabel Siggins presiding at a prettily decorated table.

Hospital bound...

Nothing we can ever do can adequately repay the more than 250,000 American heroes who died that we might live.

But we can and must provide hospital care and treatment for the hundreds of thousands who are maimed and crippled—some in body, some in mind.

To do less would be a lasting reproach to the free institutions of democracy for which they fought.

THE MONEY COSTS WILL BE HIGH

Hospitalization of our wounded will require high amounts of money. This is only one reason for the Victory Loan. Millions of men must be fed, clothed, transported home, for remember, until they are restored to civilian life the war is not over for them. And it's not over for you either till you do your share.

County Fives Begin Drills For Campaign

The three county basketball fives have gone into action according to information from the various schools, and all three expect to have fairly good seasons, especially since the lifting of gas rationing.

Youngsville High, under the watchful eye of Artie Amann, got under way November 5, with both boys and girls' teams working out. Some 40 boys reported for the first practices, but the squad is now undergoing a cut. The Eagles open their season against Warren November 30. On December 7, they meet Pleasantville at home, then go to Tionesta on the 14th of December.

L. O. "Lo" Eisenhauer, head mentor at Sheffield, had 20 candidates out for his initial call, and expects more to report as the practices increase. Eisenhauer is strengthened by the return of two veterans, Dave Eisenhauer and Mile Trubie, both forwards who will aid the Wolverine campaign extensively. Sheffield opens its season on December 7 with Tionesta, thus launching an 18-game card. There are two open dates which the Wolverines hope to fill, also. Sheffield is included in the Upper Allegheny Mountain League, which includes Kane, Wilcox, St. Marys, Johnsonburg, Ridgway and several others.

The Tidioute coach has issued his first call for a season which opens December 11 against Tionesta. The Tidioute squad will be an entirely new team and will enter a reorganized Allegheny Mountain loop, which includes eight teams. Tidioute has 14 contests scheduled, and is eager to fill two open dates, February 1 and 22. Two lettermen, Yeager and Nicholson, will lead the Orange and Black this year.

Penelec Wins Five Points From Oilers

Warren Penelec Bowling crew made it five out of six against Oil City's No. 1 and 2 teams Saturday at the Penn Alleys in the regular matches of the Penelec League. Bradford, also bowling Oil City here Saturday, took six points from the Oilers.

H. Cooper paced the locals with a 211 single and a 398 total in the first match, and D. Henry's 179 and 374 pair was high in the second match.

Next week, the local Penelecs meet Johnstown, Pa.

Army Almost Unanimous As Top Eleven

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Army's 61-0 romp over Penn convinced all the grid writers, except two, that the Cadets are the number one college football team in the nation. The two dissenters of the 83 scribes participating in the Associated Press' weekly poll liked Alabama and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Only once before, when Notre Dame was the unanimous choice two years ago, had an eleven so completely dominated the voting. Now even the coaching profession is joining the chorus of praise for the uncrowned champions whose only remaining game is their Dec. 1 date with Navy.

Navy retained enough backing off an easy win over Wisconsin to hold second place despite strong challenges by Alabama and Indiana.

The 'Bama crimson tide drubbed Vanderbilt, 71-0, but remained in third position ahead of Bo McMillin's "por li boys" from Indiana as the first four clubs retained their relative positions.

Notre Dame bounced back from the Army debacle to whip Northwestern and advance from seventh to fifth, followed by the Oklahoma Aggies and Ohio State, each of whom moved up two steps to sixth and seventh.

Michigan regained a place in the top 10 of its victory over Purdue, moving into eighth position. St. Mary's tumbled from fifth to ninth on its upset loss to UCLA and Texas advanced from 17th to tenth.

Penn and Holy Cross were dropped from the elite circle because of their respective drubbings by Army and Temple, the Crusaders falling from tenth to 23rd place.

Behind the Lines

Postwar Sports

Already you are beginning to get a glimpse of sports in the post-war era, and already you are beginning to realize that all kinds of sports will reach a peak never before anticipated.

Last year in the YMCA cage loop, there were five teams, with players ranging from high school fellows to others much older. Lack of players and teams could be blamed upon wartime handicaps. Now, when the Y is planning another season, there are ten teams registered to let fly next Monday night when the season officially opens. The return of many of our fighting veterans has brought a flood of sports interest, as can be seen in this YMCA league alone.

Bowling has been on the steady increase, even during the war. When the fellows went into service, women took over their places on the lanes and became interested in the sport. Now, both the women and returning servicemen, as well as the regular bowlers, are again engaged in the sport, and they're making it boom. In all probability, another bowling establishment here would further increase the interest.

Boxing, for many years a behind-the-scenes practice here, has been taken up by a number of young men, especially discharged vets. Frank Walters, well known here to many boxing fans, has been holding ring classes at the YMCA for some time. Frank, an Irvine boy recently discharged after serving many months overseas, has quite a string of youths following the game and possibly last three games, again turned in top tallies with a 199 single count and a 535 total. For the losing Wolves Ralph Brown tallied a 179 and 490 pair. In the other match, W. Wineriter hit a 193 single and J. Reese collected a 457 total for the winning Tigers, and B. Johanson's 170 single, along with Newt O'Dell's 466 total, led the losers.

someday boxing will come back to Warren—boxing that will equal that of ten and twenty years ago.

Either semi-pro or professional football will return here next season. Many fellows, including Warne Check, Harold Brown, Frank Martines, Walt Fredericks and a host of others, will undoubtedly return to this gridiron war.

So, maybe it will be a good idea to get your thinking cap on. If sports is going to boom, and it certainly is at present, there has to be a place for it to boom. And there's only one solution to a sports boom—a stadium, the stadium that has been talked about for so long. Your opinions are needed. Drop us a card and let us know what you think would be the proper type of stadium and what should be included in the project.

hours, the doctor said.

Defense Counsel Jesse Juilante asked:

"Did he at any time admit any knowledge of this crime?"

Dr. Droszki answered:

"Absolutely not."

On the stand in his own defense, Bromley denied flatly that he had anything to do with Wilkinson's death. Speaking quietly, Bromley told of going to Titusville with three friends the night before the slaying. He said he returned to his boarding house about midnight and drank beer until he went to bed.

Earlier, Mrs. Rose White, of Corry, owner of the boarding house where Bromley lived, said she heard him arranging to go to Titusville that night. She said he and four other boarders returned early the morning of April 3 and declared she saw "nothing unusual" about his conduct then or thereafter.

That flight from the Japanese island of Hokkaido to Chicago, was about 7,000 miles. After landing to refuel at Chicago, the planes continued on to Washington.

An army official said today that the Guam flight is longer because the B-29 did not take the short way home—over the top of the world.

The plane carried a crew of specially picked and trained personnel, all veterans of the Pacific war.

Slight changes were made to fit the plane for the flight, such as stripping excess weight, but it still is a standard B-29 minus armor and radar.

Weather conditions were good at the time of take-off. The plane climbed into the air with 11,110 gallons of fuel which represented almost half of the gross weight of the ship. Thirteen auxiliary tanks were carried.

The air forces said that "this flight seeks to exceed the long-distance record established by the British by more than 1,000 miles."

Baron Honjo Takes Life By Hara-Kari

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 20.—(A)—Baron Gen. Shigeru Honjo, accused war criminal and reputed ringleader in the conquest of Manchuria, committed hara-kiri today less than 24 hours after he was ordered arrested.

The baron was lying on his right side in a pool of blood in his office at the former Japanese war college when Allied reporters and photographers arrived.

Blood still oozed from the body and the hilt of his ceremonial sword was thrust up from the sheet which partly covered the body. A small cup containing tea dregs was beside the body.

The old-line officer performed the Japanese hara-kiri ritual by slashing his stomach cross wise, then cutting his throat.

But instead of the ritualistic kimono, Honjo wore his army uniform. His upturned boots were highly polished.

Honjo, one of 11 war leaders of the past imperialistic decade ordered imprisoned yesterday, died shortly after his secretary found his slashed body on his office floor.

"I cannot endure as a soldier of our country to appear before a court of Allied powers," Honjo said in a letter written shortly before he killed himself.

The letter, addressed to his secretary, Kawamura, said it was Honjo's desire that his eldest son, Kazuo, not succeed to his title of baron.

The retired general, who was serving as president of the organization for relief of demobilized soldiers, had gone to his office early this morning as usual although the organization had been ordered abolished by MacArthur.

SHEFFIELD NEWS

Sheffield, Nov. 18—The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary held their annual Armistice Day dinner party on November 11 at the Legion Home. Promptly at 6:30 one hundred and thirty guests were seated at tables lighted with candles and fittingly decorated in red, white and blue. The invocation was given by Reverend P. N. Taylor.

The program was in charge of Miss Eva Brown, in the absence of Auxiliary president, Mrs. John Burns, gave the address of welcome, and introduced the speaker, James Hindman of Oil City. Miss Joan Ofsnyder of Oil City gave a splendid twirling exhibition.

AUXILIARY

The American Legion met on November 12. Reports were given on the Inter-County Council meeting by the delegates. The following obligations were ordered paid: Child Welfare, $12.00; rehabilitation, $23.00. Junior baseball, $5.00; and National defense $10.00. Members with a hundred and ten members with paid membership. Fifty dollars paid to the unrestricted fund for use in the Veterans' hospitals. A hundred dollar Victory Bond was bought during the drive. A card party will be held later this month. The December meeting will be preceded by a turban dinner and a Christmas party, each member will bring a twenty-five cent gift. The maple coffee table was raffled and won by Sam Ewing of Brookston. Refreshments were served by Misses Agnes Lundquist, Madeline and Mae Magnuson, Elsie Nelson, Theresa Johnson, and Blenda Hinkley.

Restrictions On Whisky To Be Lightened

Partial lifting of Pennsylvania's whisky rationing program was in prospect today following announcement by the State Liquor Control Board at Harrisburg that it will place 125,000 cases of whisky on unrestricted sale in state stores Nov. 26.

Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder said the unrestricted whisky includes some "pretty well known" blends but that restrictions must remain on bonded whiskies and some other brands because there "is still not enough available to go around."

The board, however, continued two-week ration periods through the winter holiday season and upped the individual allotment from a fifth to a fifth of a gallon and a pint for those starting Monday, December 10, and Monday, December 24.

The new ration periods will be: First, Monday, Nov. 26, through Saturday, Dec. 8; second, Monday, Dec. 10, through Saturday, Dec. 22; and Monday, Dec. 24, through Saturday, Jan. 5. For rationed whiskies, customers will use war ration book three as before.

During all three periods, the board added, licensees will be allotted 90 per cent of their former normal purchases. Rationing restrictions do not apply to brandy, rum, gin or wines or any state store merchandise other than whiskey.

PLAY PRESENTED

The young people of the United Brethren church deserve much credit for their effort and fine presentation of the character building play, a one act drama, The Toast, Friday evening Nov. 16 in the U. B. church before a large audience who could see the humor as well as the serious phases of the play.

Mrs. V. D. Smith also deserves congratulations for her efforts in directing the play, which describes a day in a newspaper office and showed the influence for good which may come when a paper works for the moral welfare of a community.

Young people in the cast were Louis Crippen, editor; Mildred Welsh, secretary to the editor; Arthur Woodard, business man with not too good a record; Stewart Smith, ace reporter; Robert Freeborough, Italian type; Harriet Sullivan, circulation manager of the paper.

Other features of the evening program were: Devotions lead by Mrs. Ekis; opening prayer, Rev. E. W. Chitester; a very fine chalk talk with a fine message, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight; vocal solo, with guitar accompaniment, Mr. Hought; trombone solo, Dale Hillard; selections on the solovox; Miss Treva McKinney; closing prayer, Rev. J. L. Strong.

Mrs. V. D. Smith presided at the program. A generous collection was received which will be used for Scientific Temperance work in Youngsville schools.

Following the program members of the W.C.T.U. gave a reception to the members of the east and pastors present. Light refreshments were served from an attractive buffet table decorated in Thanksgiving motifs with committee, Mrs. Gilbert Sanford, chairman, Mrs. Theodore Abraham, Mrs. Floyd Conklin and Miss Knapp.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 10, of Sheffield observed their eighteenth anniversary of the beginning of Girl Scouts in Sheffield, in the form of a birthday dinner which was held in the Methodist church parlors, November 14, sixty-eight members were present to enjoy the dinner and the program during the evening.

The program consisted of the following: Piano solo, "O Solo Mio", Madeline Slater; piano solo, "Ballade", Annette Davidson; piano solo, "Bridal Chorus", Teresa Slater; trumpet solo, "Rosary", Sally O'Leary; piano solo, "The Lost Chord", Mary Slater; piano solo, "Dreams of Twilight", Betty Gallagher; piano solo, "Busy Sawmill", Loretta Likens.

Each person introduced herself and told something about her activities in scouting. Troop 10 is made up of girls and leaders both of Lincoln and Washington Schools.

One of the nicest events of the evening was the lighting of the eighteen candles and singing their birthday song.

Our guests from out of town were Mrs. Althea Correll and Miss Mary Alice Clark, both Girl Scout Executives of Warren County. It was announced that Shirley Stover had become a First Class Scout. The Girl Scouts wish to thank Mrs. Harold Stover for making the lovely cake, and Mrs. George Christian for decorating the beautiful cake. The Girl Scouts wish to thank the parents of the girls for providing such a bountiful dinner, and also we wish to express our thanks to the Official Board and Mrs. Hilda Reed for permitting us to hold the birthday dinner in the church parlors.

The Fourth Mrs. Baker

Chapter 5

[Sunday 1:50 a.m. to 3:40 a.m.]

FOR a long time everything she looked upon seemed to be at the far end of a lighted well. This must be shock, she thought. Curiously, underneath the dazed state was a sense of being free, a lightening of the tension that she had been under. It was as if the thing she had dreaded was over and regardless of what it was, tightened nerves were released.

There was a strange unreality about Robey's death. Robey, with his strength, his sudden unreasoned flares of anger, the hidden, secret current that flowed just beneath the vivid personality with which he faced the world. He was the last one of all the group about him who seemed destined for death.

The feeling of a weird detachment from reality carried her through the confusion that followed her appearance in the salon. Later she was able to recall some of the things that happened but at the time it was a blur made up of sound and movement. She remembered that Jerry was standing unsteadily near the window and she wondered how he had been able to get up. Dr. Wandell carried Alma to the long banquet table which was between the doors on the south side of the room and he held her head over the side.

Other persons were in the room now. The manager and superintendent, she recognized. Then police came. Many of them. They asked questions of every one and particularly one question. Who was in the salon when it happened? No one admitted being there.

It didn't seem odd at first. The police finally accepted it as a fact. But a persistent little hammer was tapping at the back of Julia's head—something was wrong. Then suddenly she knew with startling certainty that Robey never took the most dramatic action of his life without an audience. She could imagine his taking a death leap in full sight of a gasping crowd, spurred by some traitor complex in his queer mind, but falling silently in the night with no one to view his death—that was against all probability.

"You can't question her now," Dr. Wandell was saying. "She fainted and she isn't strong enough to undergo any further strain. I'm going to take her home."

He was talking about Alma who still lay full length on the banquet table, her open eyes the only sign that she was conscious. The doctor's voice was positive and a little angry.

"But she's probably the one who knows how it happened," insisted a deep voice.

"You can find out in the morning, Sergeant." The sentence was clipped off, a final verdict.

IT WASN'T more than five minutes later that the whole stumbling investigation was brought up short. A young man came into the salon and took over. The sergeant voiced one word with relief, "Inspector." He went to the door and spoke in low tones to the newcomer while the others watched openly. To Julia the man's face was familiar but she couldn't place him. He was slightly above medium height and had a small neat head topped with thick brown hair. He carried his chin high so that his short straight nose tilted upward. He doesn't look like a policeman, she thought.

When the sergeant was finished the Inspector came toward her. She saw his expression change from one of set purpose to wonderment. She had seen the same thing happen many times in the faces of men who first saw her. It was a tribute to her beauty. Usually she was more irritated than flattered but this time she was vaguely pleased.

A man with an open notebook and the sergeant were back of him. Frank moved to her side and she was grateful.

"Mrs. Baker, I'm Inspector Venable. I'm sorry to bother you at such a time but you realize we must gather all the facts at once."

"Of course. Won't you sit down?" She thought fleetingly that she sounded like her mother who was gravely courteous under any circumstances.

The Inspector sat down opposite her in a chair Frank moved there for him.

"When did you last see your husband, Mrs. Baker?"

"Not long before he—before I heard Miss Dillard cry out. I came through here from the foyer and went to my room. He and Miss Dillard were standing at the window."

"What did you do?"

The grey eyes were searching hers and she wondered if he thought she should be weeping as Grace was.

"I went on into my room over there. I thought Miss Pratt was there but she wasn't. I took an aspirin tablet and was repairing my makeup when I heard some one walk across the floor. That was just before Miss Dillard screamed."

As soon as the words were out she had a sense of danger. It must have come from the quick tensing of muscles in the face of the man opposite her. His next words, however, were indifferent.

"You must have good ears to hear footsteps on this rug."

"But they were on the glass border of the floor," she explained.

She wished she could remember those footsteps more clearly but she hadn't paid much attention. She tried to recall whether they were heavy or light but she couldn't.

"They seemed to be hurried," she said suddenly, out of her meditation.

The blackness. Time was endless on that trip across the dressing room and Robey's chamber. Each second was a ballroom, she thought, and she was at full blown, almost to the breaking point.

At last she reached the door to the foyer, opening it cautiously. There was still no light! Surely the policeman would not sit there without a light.

The tile felt cold on her feet and she welcomed the soft wool of the square rug. Her groping hand touched the table that was in the center of the rug and she guided herself around it. Her foot touched something and she would have stumbled if she had not been moving so slowly. Instantly she was crouched low, feeling on the floor. It was a man lying on his stomach. Her hand crept up to find his head. She jerked it away. The head was sticky. She never knew what kept her from crying out. She didn't know who it was or whether he was alive or dead. But she saw another vision of a tall girl lying somewhere. Where was Virginia?

It occurred to her later that Virginia's could have been the hand that struck down the policeman on guard but that night no suspicion of the girl entered her head.

She thought of Moore but shuddered at the thought of going back to arouse him. The closest bell to his room was the doorbell. The quickest means of getting aid was the telephone. It was inclosed behind a door flush with the wall near where she stood. The very air was inimical. She dared not move farther than she had to. The small door was stuck a little and she worked carefully to open it without making a sound. A small creek escaped before it finally came out with a soft "plink!" Her hand had tightened on the handle to lift it before she realized that someone was near her. She had a crazy thought that the man on the floor had risen to grab her. Then she was struck. Everything was blanked out instantly.

BULLETIN

Washington, Nov. 20.—(P)—A B-29 which came all the way from Guam without a stop landed here this afternoon, and the Army Air Forces immediately claimed a world's distance record. The plane hit the runways at the National Airport at 1:35 p. m. (EST), approximately 35 hours and some 8,000 miles after it left Guam. The recognized distance record is 7,158.44 miles, set by the British in 1938 in a flight from Egypt to Australia.

Washington, Nov. 20.—(P)—The army announced today that a B-29, winging its way eastward from Guam, has set a non-stop distance record—and is still flying.

The B-29 passed over La Crosse, Wis., at 9:30 a. m. EST. This is 7,368 miles from Guam, the Army Air Forces said.

The Superfortress had broken the record at that point.

The B-29 is expected to arrive at Washington National Airport at about 1:30 p. m. (EST) today. The previous mark of 7,158.44 miles was hung up by the British in 1938, flying from Egypt to Australia.

Unlike previous nonstop attempts, this time there was no previous announcement that the flight was under way.

Last month three Superfortresses, carrying three generals, tried for a non-stop record in a flight from Japan, but failed because of unexpected headwinds. (Turn to Page Nine)

Vinson Warns Nation Against Complacency

Chicago, Nov. 20.—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Fred M. Vinson said today the United States must do these three things to avoid still another world war:

Remain powerful, support international discussion to keep the peace and provide leadership for a world prosperity.

In an address prepared for the 27th national American Legion convention, Vinson said:

"We cannot follow the shortsighted policy of reclining in the luxury of the war is over. If we do that, we shall suddenly learn that we are enjoying only the breathing spell before the next war."

The United States must remember, the treasury chief added, that "if the non-aggressor nations are strong, the petty international despot will, in all likelihood, be deterred from his nefarious plans."

At the same time, he continued, "we cannot let international problems go by default."

It was General "Ike's" Day at the Legion's convention today.

The five star general of the army Dwight D. Eisenhower, arrived by train from Boone, Ia., where his wife lay ill, for an all-day round of affairs arranged by the Legion.

More Entries Received For Victory Loan Parade Nov. 24

New entries are being received for some of the divisions in the mammoth Victory Loan parade on Friday, with corrections and revisions. All participating are reminded to watch for it and clip for reference on Saturday afternoon.

The Retail Merchants' Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring the event, as a project to help spur bond buying in Warren county, as well as to a gesture to remind of the importance of doing Christmas shopping early, expressed gratitude today over the great interest that is being shown by residents of Warren and the surrounding communities. There is every indication that it will be one of the biggest events of its kind staged in Warren in years.

Quaker City Gobblers Jailed for Jaywalking

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—(P)—Four turkeys, discovered jay-walking in south Philadelphia, are in a police cell today. Police Officer Joseph Cicolese, who found the birds dodging traffic, said they will remain in jail until claimed "which should be before Thanksgiving."

Senate Probe Of Shawmut Is Contemplated

Washington, Nov. 20.—(P)—A senate investigation may supplement an FBI inquiry into the 40 year old receivership of the Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern Railroad in Pennsylvania.

The railroad operates the Shawmut Mining Company, whose miners at Force, Pa., recently protested sanitary conditions in the "Company Town."

Receivers of the railroad, meanwhile, have been ordered to "show cause" at a federal court hearing in Pittsburgh next Tuesday why they should not be removed. Senator Guffy (D-Pa.) in a statement in the Congressional Record, has called the case "a very gross abuse" of the bankruptcy laws.

This receivership would be included in a senate investigation being sought by Chairman Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Senator Reed (R-Kas.) of the Interstate Commerce Committee into some 76 railroads now in insolvency proceedings, particularly those in receivership 12 years or more.

The Pittsburgh, Shawmut and Northern case was called to the senators' attention by Interstate Commerce Commissioner Charles (Turn to Page Nine)

Trumans To See Army-Navy Game

Washington, Nov. 20.—(P)—President Truman will go to Philadelphia, Saturday, December 1, to attend the Army-Navy football game.

The White House said the president, Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, will travel by train, leaving here Saturday morning and returning to Washington that night.

In accordance with custom, the president will sit on one side of the field—the army side in this case—during the first half, and on the navy side during the second half.

This is the president's first out of town engagement since he cancelled a series of scheduled fall trips into North Carolina, Georgia, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas, because of matters needing his attention here.

WANTS WAGE ISSUE DISCUSSED AT PARLEY

Ellsworth, Nov. 20.—(P)—One local of the United Mine Workers of America agrees with CIO President Philip Murray that wages should be on the agenda of the labor-management conference in Washington.

It is Ellsworth Local in which Murray held a union card all the years he was vice president of the UMWA. Members adopted a resolution asking consideration of wages, and sent it to the conference.

UMWA President John L. Lewis opposed discussion of wages at the parley.

CHINESE REDS ENTER CAPITAL OF MANCHURIA

Communists Race With Nationalists, Already 35 Miles Inside Vital Industrial Territory

SOVIET CONDITIONS

By SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, Nov. 20.—(P)—Chinese Communist troops were reported invading Manchuria's capital in force today in a race with rival Nationalist soldiers, already 35 miles inside the vital industrial territory after a breakthrough in the south.

The China Times declared that 4,000 Communist troops had entered the capital of Changchun, but failed to say whether Russian occupation forces still were in the city.

The Times also asserted without confirmation elsewhere that new conferences between China and Russia on the tense Manchurian situation would begin soon, either in Moscow or Chungking.

Unofficial reports in Chungking said the Russians had laid down 20 conditions which the Nationalists must meet before being allowed to fly troops into Manchuria, making an overland drive necessary. Chungking newspapers asserted this drive already was well under way, with Nationalist troops racing to positions a dozen miles inside Manchuria to within 190 miles of the great industrial city of Mukden.

With these well-equipped, American-trained troops apparently on the loose after having broken through the Chinese Communist line along the great wall, the Communist press leveled new charges at the United States.

The United States is converting China into "an American colony," the Communist Daily News charged.

The activities of the American forces have enraged all patriotic Chinese, the newspaper asserted. It compared it with the "imperialism" of the British in India, French in IndoChina and the (Turn to Page Nine)

Not Time To Declare Gov. Martin Says

Harrisburg, Nov. 20.—(P)—Governor Martin said today he has made up his mind about his political plans for 1946 but "it isn't time yet to make my announcement."

Martin made the statement at a news conference when asked if he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate next year.

"I always take things in stride," he said. "If anybody made a definite announcement at this time it would interfere with the orderly procedure."

"I'm not interested in personal, political advancement, but I am interested in the general advancement of Pennsylvania and for that reason I am not ready to make any announcement of my personal part in politics in 1946."

The seat in the senate is now held by U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffy, Democrat, who is expected to seek a third term.

Asked if he had given any thought to his successor as governor, Martin replied:

"It seems as if more people than usual are ready to assume that burden. The Republicans are in the best shape as far as material for U. S. senator, governor and the other offices than we have been in years. There is plenty of magnificent material."

NOTORIOUS OUTLAW IS STILL AT LARGE

Oklahoma City, Nov. 20.—(P)—Matt Kimes, notorious boy leader of outlaw gangs of the 1920's, was believed to be hiding somewhere in the hilly fastnesses of eastern Oklahoma today and officers scoured the region but admitted the trail was growing colder.

Kimes, charged with robbing the First State Bank of Morton, Tex., of $17,000 Sept. 5 while on leave from the Oklahoma penitentiary, had left no definite trace since eluding capture after taking $1,200 from a Wewoka, Okla., theater manager Sunday night.

Pearl Harbor Probers Told Roosevelt Said Jap Mistake Would Lead Us Into Conflict

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 20.—(P)—The late Navy Secretary Frank Knox predicted on January 24, 1941, that if war with Japan occurred, hostilities might begin with a surprise attack upon the Pacific fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor.

His prediction was made in a letter to Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of war, and was disclosed in an exchange of correspondence made public today by the congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee.

The Knox letter, dated more than 10 months prior to the Japanese strike at the base, said that "if war eventuates with Japan, it is believed easily possible that hostilities would be initiated by a surprise attack upon the fleet or the naval base at Pearl Harbor."

Admiral J. Richardson testified today the late president was "rather loathe" to increase the manpower of the Pacific fleet in midsummer, 1940.

Richardson recounted a series of conferences he held with the president, Cordell Hull, then secretary of state, and others shortly after the fall of France.

The respected admiral, who was relieved of command of the Pacific fleet 10 months before the Japanese sneak attack, testified that in a three-hour conference at the White House on July 8, 1940, he stressed what he felt was the need for more men to man the ships of the fleet.

The respected admiral, reading from a memorandum, said he asked Mr. Roosevelt if "we were going to enter the war."

The president replied, the witness said, "that if the Japanese attacked Thailand or the Kra peninsula, or the Dutch East Indies, we would not enter the war, but that if they attacked the Philippines he doubted whether we would enter the war, but that they could not always avoid making mistakes and that as the war continued and the area of operations expanded, sooner or later they would make a mistake and we would enter the war."

Committee attaches announced as the hearing resumed that Admiral William D. Leahy, President Roosevelt's chief of staff during the war, would testify during the day.

Richardson testified that Leahy was present at one of Richardson's conferences with the late president.

Barkley, who is chairman of the inquiry group, told a reporter that Richardson's "very frank statement" ought to set at rest any reports that Mr. Roosevelt was not doing what he could to avoid a clash with Japan.

"That doesn't sound very much like Mr. Roosevelt was trying to get us into war, does it?" the Kentucky asked.

But Republican members of the committee said they wanted to hear more from Richardson, recalled to the stand today, before they form any opinion.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) noted in an interview the belief that the critical period of American relations with Japan came after Richardson's 1940 visit to the White House.

"The critical months were in 1941," Ferguson said. "We began exchanging notes with Japan about April of that year. I want to hear all of the story of our (Turn to Page Nine)

Committees at Conference Are Criticized

Washington, Nov. 20.—(P)—Management spokesmen, complaining of what they termed "unrealistic" work being done in committees of the labor-management conference hinted today they might file separate reports for conference consideration.

This development came as the "Big Six"—the heads of the two industry and four labor organizations represented—took action designed to prevent any of the committees from winding up in deadlocked disagreement.

The six set themselves up as a consultative body to which any floundering committee would bring its problems before arriving at an impasse.

Of the six spadework committees, only one has filed a progress report. All reports were called for on Friday.

A spokesman for the National Association of Manufacturers reported that industry delegates want changes in a proposed report of the committee on settlement of disputes arising under existing labor contracts. As written, the report recommends voluntary arbitration as the final step in achieving peaceable settlement.

Maternity Hospital Has Unusual Record

Benton, Ill., Nov. 20.—(P)—Two women, each bearing the name of Mrs. Earl Sanders, who live on the same street in the same block and each the mother of three sons, occupy the same ward in nearby West Frankfort's Union hospital.

Within the same hour each woman gave birth to a daughter. Dr. G. G. Moore was the busy attending physician for both women.

Truth Serum Testimony In Trial At Erie

Erie, Nov. 20.—(P)—Investigation of the Wilkinson slaying which resulted in a murder charge against Frank L. Bromley, Jr., of Corry, was bitterly censured today by defense attorneys in making their summary at Bromley's murder trial.

After reviewing the investigation conducted by Sheriff Fred Lamberton and state police, Attorney Paul Stephany told the jurors:

"You have a story which is a fanciful contortion based upon a diabolical scheme conceived by a warped and twisted mind in an over zealous effort to break this case at any cost."

Stephany said he intended no criticism of the district attorney, Burton R. Leach.

Following the prosecution's summary this afternoon, Judge J. Orin Waite was to charge the jury.

Erie, Nov. 20.—(P)—Dr. Edward Drozowski, former Erie county prison physician, told a murder trial jury that two injections of "truth serum" failed to shake the truth of Frank L. Bromley, Jr., 23, that he had nothing to do with the killing of a sailor in 1942.

Dr. Drozowski went on the stand yesterday as a defense witness, despite objections of the prosecution, in Bromley's trial on a charge of killing Chief Petty Officer Lloyd Wilkinson on Good Friday morning, in 1942, along a lonely road near North East.

The "truth serum," said Dr. Drozowski, is a powerful hypnotic drug. When it is given to a patient, and he is then questioned, the drug brings out things hidden in his subconscious mind.

Each time Bromley was given an injection, he was questioned six (Turn to Page Nine)

Separatist Disturbances Are Quelled

Tehran, Nov. 20.—(P)—Iranian troops dispatched to Azarbaijan province to quell separatist disturbances there were halted at Kazvin today by Russian authorities and ordered to return to Tehran, the Iranian government said.

Four battalions of troops and gendarmes had been moving slowly northward from Tehran, apparently with the tacit consent of the Russian army commander, to quell the outbreaks in which seven already have been reported killed.

Kazvin is about 100 miles northeast of Tehran and approximately one-third of the distance between the Iranian capital and Tabriz, Azerbaijan's largest city.

The troops moved to reinforce government garrisons consisting of two infantry battalions, one battalion of motorized troops and one battalion of gendarmes, the latter accompanied by two American advisors from Colonel Norman Schwarzkopf's police advisory mission in Iran.

MEADVILLE UNION IS ENJOINED BY WRIT.

Meadville, Nov. 20.—(P)—Officers of Local 110, AFL-International Association of Machinists, filed a preliminary injunction which prohibited them "from refusing admittance of non-union salaried workers" to the Meadville plants of Talon, Inc., maker of zippers.

Union officials questioned about probable action said they had no comment to make at this time.

The injunction was handed down yesterday by Judge O. Clare Kent who set 10 a. m. Friday for a hearing.

William F. McIntyre, industrial relations manager of Talon, announced all non-union salaried employees here have been called back to work immediately.

SCORE OF SILENT AND ODDLY-GARBED HENCHMEN OF HITLER GO ON TRIAL AT NUERNBERG

What disposition Will Be Made of Reports of Alienists On Hess' Mental Condition Has Not Yet Been Announced

NO LEGAL FURBELOWS AT START OF CASE

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Nuernberg, Nov. 20.—(P)—A strangely assorted score of gloomy Nazis sat dejectedly today before an international military tribunal and heard themselves formally accused of Nazi war crimes, the murder of 10,000,000 Europeans, plunder, horror and torture.

Throughout the opening session of the historic trial for their lives, Hitlerian followers such as corpulent Hermann Goering, vague Rudolf Hess and defiant Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel listened through earphones while spokesmen of the nations which crushed their hierarchy recited crimes the world had never before witnessed.

By turns, prosecutors of the United States, Great Britain, France and Russia droned through the four counts of the 24,000-word indictment accusing the last of the leadership Nazis of conspiracy to commit crimes against the peace, actual commission of crimes against the peace, war crimes and crimes against humanity.

Even the appendices containing individual charges against the 20 defendants were read, meaning that the men who terrorized Europe only a year ago could not be arraigned until the Wednesday session.

The Nazis sometimes sat with earphones clamped on to hear translations in German piped to them as the prosecutors read in English, French and Russian. Robed attorneys sat beside them.

Of the 20 originally indicted, one is at large, two are too ill to attend and one has committed suicide. Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, was being tried in absentia. Robert Ley, the labor leader, took his own life. Ernest Kaltenbrunner of the Gestapo and Gustav Krupp von Bohlen und Halbach were ill.

After the indictments are read in full, each defendant will plead either "guilty" or "not guilty." Then the prosecution will make its opening statement.

Rudolf Hess, an almost impish grin playing about his sunken mouth, was lined up in the dock with the Nazi defendants—20 in all. The 21st, Martin Bormann, Hitler's deputy, is being tried in absentia.

During the recess for lunch, the defendants remained in the court and ate heartily from American army mess kits. Goering's appetite was particularly keen.

When the court was cleared, the Nazis leaped up and began shaking hands with each other enthusiastically. Though many had occupied adjoining cells for months, solitary confinement had restricted their conversations and many were able to exchange words for the first time since reaching Nuernberg.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former Reichsbank president, engaged Albert Speer, Reichsminister for production, in lively banter, commenting:

The Nazis talked animatedly with their lawyers just before court resumed.

Sheffield Over Top In Loan Drive To Tune of 108.7 Pct.

Today Sheffield should be the proudest community in Warren county. The War Finance Committee is proud of them because already they have oversold their quota of Victory Bonds, and it was a sizable quota, too. The fine spirit and cooperation shown in Sheffield should be a real inspiration to the rest of the county to quickly sell the balance of their quotas. This explodes once and for all the pessimistic talk that it couldn't be done. It has been done and Sheffield stands ready to prove it.

Here's Sheffield's record:

GEORGE ALBERT ZOLKA

Funeral services for the late George Albert Zolka, of Torpedo, were conducted Monday morning. Prayers at the home of the deceased were followed by a requiem mass at St. Luke's church in Irvine which was celebrated by Rev. Ward J. Jacobs, pastor.

Bearers were Joe Tayduk, W. C. Leofsky, Izidor Stec, Frank Alabozak, Joe Polancey and Alec Kosiba. Interment took place in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery at Warren. Those at the funeral from a distance included Mrs. Bertha Bodnar, Miss Helen Bodnar, Robert Novak, Miss Pauline Zolka, of Homestead; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, of Swissvale; Mrs. Robert Keays, of Homewood; Mr. and Mrs. F. X. Gorman and daughter of Wilkinsburg; and Mrs. Charles Smith and family, of Munhall, Pa.

JOSEPH DALE DEVORE

Funeral services in memory of Joseph Dale DeVore were held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Gower, 14 Water street, Monday afternoon at 2:30, with Rev. Milton G. Perry of First Baptist church, officiating. During the services two hymns were sung by Mr. and Mrs. James Anthony, "Life's Railway to Heaven" and "I Will Meet You In the Morning." Committal was made in the I. O. O. F. cemetery in Youngsville, with Russell Crippen, Henry DeVore acting as bearers. Attending from away were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeVore, of Saybrook; Mr. and Mrs. Anson DeVore and family, of Youngsville; Mr. and Mrs. Jason Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gallagher, Miss Mary Jane Eddy, Lawrence Eddy, Miss Hazel DeVore, Miss Mary Alice Chambers, of Jamestown.

ASA C. WRIGHT

Asa C. Wright, lifelong resident of Warren county and of the Hatch Run section for over 30 years, died at 8:20 p. m. Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Baker, 250 Pennsylvania avenue, west, aged 94 years. Surviving is one stepdaughter, Mrs. M. L. Clark, of Warren.

Services in his memory will be held from the Lutz Funeral Home at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon, followed by interment in Hale cemetery at Akeley.

JOHN K. WILSON

John K. Wilson, aged 69 years, of Youngsville, died Monday evening at 11:30 o'clock at his home there. Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: Harold, of Warren; Laverne, Youngsville; Catherine Hazeltine, Youngsville; Ruth Brown, Jamestown; Woodrow Wilson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Evelyn May Wilson, Hawthorne, Calif.; Glenn, of Jamestown, and Leone Mack, Youngsville. Services will be held from the home Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by the Methodist minister there. Interment will follow in the Youngsville cemetery.

FRANK C. MACK

Funeral services in memory of Frank F. Mack were held at the family home, 447 Phillips street, at two o'clock Monday afternoon. Rev. Harold Knappenberger, pastor of Grace Methodist church, conducted the rites and the following served as bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery: Don L. Durward, Garnet, Vernon and Richard Mack and George I. Sigling. Many beautiful flowers were testimony of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by all who knew him.

SYLVESTER S. ROGERS

Sylvester S. Rogers, former well known resident of Pittsfield, but who had been making his home with a daughter at Irvine, died at the Warren General hospital this morning. Removal was made to the Young funeral home in Youngsville. Plans for the services and more complete obituary will be printed later.

CHURCH NOTICES

WEDNESDAY NOON
Pastors and church secretaries are reminded that, owing to the Thanksgiving holiday, the Friday church notices for this week must be in the hands of the church editor by Wednesday noon instead of the customary hour on Thursday.

WILL BE CLOSED

The Warren County Board of Assistance calls attention to the holiday closing of its office on Wednesday evening, not to be reopened until Monday morning.

ONE MINOR DISTURBANCE

The night force of the police department answered a call to the corner of Laurel and Pennsylvania avenue early this morning, but the disturbance had quieted down before they arrived and no arrests were made.

RESUMES DUTIES

Dr. Robert Maneval has resumed his duties as dentist at Warren State Hospital following his discharge from military service and, with his family, is again in readiness on the hospital grounds. Dr. Maneval, major in the army, was one of the first to leave the hospital and the community for service.

HURT IN CRASH

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin, of Wesleyville, were admitted to Corry Hospital late Saturday afternoon after they had been injured when their car skidded on Route 6 near Wrightsville. Mrs. Rust suffered a fractured collarbone and Mrs. Rust received several cuts and abrasions. Relatives took them to their home at Wesleyville Sunday afternoon.

Fine Address Is Delivered To Ministers

The Rev. Edward K. Rogers, pastor of the First Lutheran church, was the speaker at the meeting of the Warren County Ministerial Association, held at the YMCA yesterday forenoon. His subject was "The Returning Soldier Man Looks at the Church."

It was the speaker's opinion that, in the main, what the soldiers were when they left for the service they will be when they return. The soldier who was well instructed and well grounded in his religious life was the one who stood best the stress and the strain of army life.

On the strength of this observation, Rev. Rogers urged that more stress should be laid on instruction of our people in matters pertaining to fundamental teachings of the church. "We can well afford to sacrifice or forget a lot of the frills, entertainments and social functions that occupy our time in churches for the most important work of religious instruction," he said. "Many of the soldiers will want to know just what the church does believe and teach, and they will demand that the church be positive in its stand."

It was the feeling of the speaker that those churches which have neglected the religious service, which have not kept in touch with them, will have difficulty in interesting them in church work as they return home. He urged that it might be expedient to organize parish veterans' clubs to enable them to keep alive the comradeship peculiar to service people's life.

The devotional part of the program was conducted by Rev. B. F. Armstrong. The president, Rev. P. Elmer Landerahl, presided.

The next meeting will be held Monday, December 3, when the Rev. J. F. Collins, 111 Second avenue, will speak on "County Local Option."

Metzger-Wright's Have Post-War Refrigerator

Customers of Metzger-Wright's since Friday morning have had the opportunity of seeing the first post-war Westinghouse Refrigerator which is on display at the Liberty Street entrance of that store. Hundreds stopped to admire many new built-in features, among these features is a large space for keeping frozen foods, which may be converted into a freezing unit for ice cubes if one desires; two large glass enclosed drawers, one for meat, one for vegetables; the true-temperature control, which keeps the refrigerator at the right coldness at all times; then the storage space for vegetables built in the bottom panel. An invitation is extended to everyone to view this first post-war Westinghouse Refrigerator at Metzger-Wright's the sole distributor of Westinghouse appliances in Warren.

PENELEC VOTE

The result of the recent vote taken among the foremen employed by the Pennsylvania Electric Company throughout the territory served by the utility has been announced by the NLRB at Pittsburgh as having been 22 in favor of a strike and 13 against. Apparently many of the foremen did not vote as about sixty were supposed to be eligible. The foremen want the AFL-International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers recognized as their bargaining agent with the company and are said to be dissatisfied over the recent adjustment upward of wage on a retroactive basis in which they did not share as did other construction and maintenance employees.

Girls From Clarendon In Kane Episode

Kane Republican: A 15-year-old Clarendon girl found in an unconscious condition lying in the doorway of a Greeves street business entrance early Monday gave borough and state police a merry chase before the case was cleared.

Tales of abduction, attack and rape were discounted by state and borough police after a rapid check up and examination of the girl at the Community Hospital.

According to police report, two Clarendon girls, both minors, started to hitch-hike to Kane Sunday evening and were picked up in a car containing two Ludlow men and a Kane soldier.

They came here and then went to Bradford with the men, returning to Kane and going to Ludlow where they were let out of the car. The men had secured whiskey here and at Ludlow and all had been drinking.

After being let out of the car at Ludlow, the girls started hitch-hiking at a road intersection and the two Ludlow men returned and picked them up, bringing them back to Kane. The one girl collapsed in the doorway of a business building, where her crying attracted attention and police were summoned.

Patrolman Bernard Rose had the girl removed to the Community Hospital at 6 a. m. As a result of conflicting stories, state and borough police began an immediate investigation and ordered a medical examination of the girl. Reports indicated that she was intoxicated and had not been attacked. She was slated to be released from the hospital and returned to her home.

BARBER SHOP HOURS
Barber shops of the borough will be open all day Wednesday until six o'clock owing to the Thursday holiday closing.

OLD BARBER
Melvin C. Simpson, prominent resident of Polk for 40 years, died Sunday at his home, following an illness of 18 months. Mr. Simpson was born June 24, 1879, in Leesburg and moved to Polk 40 years ago to take a position as an employee of the State Training School. Later Mr. Simpson resigned this position and purchased a barber shop which he conducted in Polk during the past 34 years.

When the tomb of King Tut in Egypt was opened, chairs and other glue bonded items were found intact, and in good condition.

Silver Star Medal Given Posthumously

In compliance with earlier information from the office of the adjutant general that the Silver Star Medal had been posthumously awarded their son, Sgt. Richard E. Goodard, Mr. and Mrs. Burt J. Goodard, Chancellors Valley, were personally presented the decoration on November 19 by Captain Grunzweig, of the U. S. Army Recruiting office, 303 Second avenue, this city.

The decoration, given by direction of The President, is accompanied by the following citation: "For gallantry in action near Marikina, Philippine Islands, on 11 June 1945. On this date, Sergeant Goodard was a member of a small patrol that was advancing over tortuous mountain terrain to investigate a draw on the slope of Mt. Purro. As he led the patrol forward, he walked into the fire lane of a well-camouflaged enemy position, and was immediately cut down by its fire. He was mortally wounded and unable to move. An attempt was made to rescue him, but he warned his men away rather than risk their becoming casualties. Summoning all his fast-waning strength, he called out the location of the hostile emplacement and best route of approach before he died. This enabled the patrol to knock out the installation and continue on its mission. Sergeant Goodard's gallant action was a great inspiration to his men and is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service."

STAFF SERGEANT
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sontag.

103 Cayuga avenue, have received word from their son, Don, that he has been promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant. At present he is recovering from an appendectomy performed November 9 on Tinian, where he is currently stationed.

TO CADET SCHOOL

According to information just received from the Merchant Marine Cadet Corps headquarters, Richard Irwin Randall, 18, of 107 Jackson avenue, has reported to the cadet basic school at San Mateo, Calif., following his appointment as cadet-midshipman. Upon completion of the basic training, he will be assigned to sea duty aboard a merchant vessel for a period of six to eight months, after which he will report to the academy at King's Point, N. Y. Upon graduation there, he will be licensed as a third Mate and commissioned an ensign in the Maritime Service and U. S. Naval Reserve.

TO BE REASSIGNED

The Army Ground and Service Forces headquarters at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., reports that Pvt. Leonard M. Swanson, son of Mrs. Charlotte Swanson, 1512 Pennsylvania avenue, east, is currently stationed at that center awaiting reassignment to a post within the United States. Pvt. Swanson was recently returned to the States after serving 18 months in Hawaii, Guam, Leyte and New Guinea as an assistant tank driver and machine gunner in the Infantry Armored. His decorations include the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with three campaign stars, the Philippine Liberation ribbon, American Theatre of Operations medal and the Distinguished Unit badge.

IS OLD TIMER

M. C. Kropf, ACMM, USN, who has been in the navy for eighteen and one-half years, arrived home Saturday from Camp Kearney, Calif., to spend 30-days leave with his mother and sisters, 104 Onondaga avenue. En route to Warren, he visited with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mahood, South Gate, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Giege, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. John Nolan, Santa Monica; and Mrs. M. B. Eagan, Los Angeles.

TO GO OVERSEAS

Pvt. Robert J. Lundberg is spending a 15-day furlough at his home in North Warren after completing his course at airplane mechanic's school at Keesler Field, Miss. He will report to Guadalupe, N. C., for overseas assignment.

NAVY RELEASES

F. A. Bryan, S 1/c, of 114 Cone-wango avenue, and John Niedzialic, B1 2/c, of 2037 Pennsylvania avenue, west, have been honorably discharged from naval service at the Bainbridge, Md., separation center.

TWO FROM COUNTY ASSIGNED TO PRINCETON

Fleet dispatches just received by the Times-Mirror indicate that two Warren county men have been assigned to duty on the USS Princeton, a new Essex-class aircraft carrier soon to be commissioned. They are Warren E. Carr, seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carr, Youngville, who formerly attended high school at that place; and Robert L. Graham, seaman first class, of Grand Valley. Members of the

"I'M SORRY, SIR, BUT I'LL HAVE TO CHARGE YOU MORE IF YOU HAVE MORE!"

$2.00

How much can you pay?

Would you think if the clerk at your favorite store asked to see what you had in your wallet before he decided what to charge you for a shirt?

Or if, just because you happened to have some money saved up, you were asked to pay more than other people for a haircut, a movie ticket, or even such important items as rent, food and clothing.

That's exactly the kind of reasoning UAW-CIO leaders are using in their wage demands on General Motors—

They point to funds we have saved up over the years to expand and improve our plants and provide more jobs and more production. They say, "Give us that in higher wages."

General Motors does not go along with that kind of reasoning. People should not have to pay more just because they have a savings account—

For many years we have used our savings to expand capacity, create more jobs and provide greater values.

And we intend to keep on doing just that. We are, at present, embarked on a very important reconversion and postwar expansion program. Our objective, now as always—to produce more and better things for more people.

The MODERN Gas Range Is preferred by—

Our Finest Hotel and Restaurant Chefs and

The American Housewife

because of its:

Efficiency
—that permits fast, work-saving preparation of nutritious meals.

Economy
—whether you are interested in savings in your household budget or in profits in restaurant operations, Gas is the preferred kitchen fuel.

Speed
—Gas gives instant, maximum heat—no waiting.

Accurate Automatic Control
—Gas is the most precisely controllable of all fuels—it can be throttled to the temperature you want—not just turned "on," "off" or "in-between."

Cleanliness
—as important in a public kitchen as to the housewife. The modern Gas Range is clean in action and is easily kept spic and span.

Perfect Results
—Your modern Gas Range turns out the most delicious, appetite-tempting dishes possible.

Long Life and Carefree Service
—No expensive parts to replace in your Gas Range, nothing to wear out or burn out.

It all adds up to the fact that among large scale kitchen operators the trend is definitely to Gas. Too, that's why more American homes cook with Gas than any other fuel. The smart housewife, that splendid cook, knows that Gas is the unsurpassed kitchen fuel.

Consult your Gas Appliance Dealer or check with your Gas Company. Even though you may not be able to secure the Gas Range you want immediately, you'll get it sooner if you leave your order now.

ONE MORE DIFFICULT PROBLEM

In accepting a place on the Anglo-American Committee of Inquiry on Palestine, this government has taken on another difficult problem. It also has accepted the role which America's strength and influence make inevitable. We are perhaps the biggest of the Big Three, when all the assets are counted. Any trouble in the world concerns us, for it will affect us in the end whether we ignore it or not.

Thus far we have not done too well in the world's sorry aftermath of war. We run the risk of dangerous involvements in China. We have remained diplomatically aloof from the struggle in Indonesia and Indo-China, while allowing our arms to be used in the fighting there. Let us hope we shall do better with the problem of Palestine.

The British can use some help. They have handled the problem rather badly, though it is doubtful that any power could have handled it well. But Britain's delays and inconsistencies of the past 25 years, intensified from 1939 to the present, can't be said to represent the happiest efforts to solve a sorry situation.

It was only natural that Foreign Minister Bevin's statement on Palestine should have proved unsatisfactory to both parties. Zionists are angry because he backed down on previous British promises of a national Jewish homeland in Palestine and proposed a Jewish "community" there. They foresee only trouble if the Jews are to be a minority in Palestine as they are in the rest of the world, abiding in the ancient homeland only by the majority's consent.

The Arabs are displeased because they view Zionism as an imperialistic movement which is perverting the humanitarian aim of finding a haven for the victims of Axis persecution. Their more extreme politicians favor an immediate and total ban of Jewish immigration into Palestine.

To reconcile these opposing views Mr. Bevin proposes a thorough inquiry in Europe and Palestine leading to interim recommendations and a permanent solution to be presented to the United Nations Conference, which Mr. Bevin would have assume trusteeship of a Palestine state.

Mr. Bevin seems convinced, even before the inquiry, that Palestine itself does not provide opportunity for grappling with the whole problem of Europe's surviving Jews.

It may be hoped that American members of the new inquiry committee will consider the possibilities of this long-range program, and that they will also give more immediate attention to the desperate plight of the ill, hungry and homeless survivors of Nazi-Fascist pogroms than Mr. Bevin apparently has planned.

EARLY THANKSGIVING

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania has marked Thanksgiving day at various times since 1711 but the earlier observances came in almost every month except November.

Warren J. Daniel, director of the Commonwealth's Land Office, dug through the ancient records preserved in the Department of Internal Affairs to find the oldest observance of the holiday in Pennsylvania August 15, 1711.

"That day," he reported, "was set aside by Queen Anne (of England) to ask for divine guidance prior to sending ships with an armed force to recover that part of North America called Canada."

Thirty-five years later Governor George Thomas of provincial Pennsylvania set July 24, 1746, as a day to give thanks for the victory of Britain over Scotland, France and Spain.

In 1775, June 19 was made a day of meditation and prayer in connection with the developing French and Indian war and in 1777, April 3 was proclaimed by the supreme council of Pennsylvania as a day "to ask the assistance of providence in the most just and necessary war"—the American revolution.

The following year, December 13 was a day of Thanksgiving in connection with France's entry into the war as an American ally and in 1780, President Joseph Reed of Pennsylvania set aside both April 25 and December 7 as Thanksgiving days.

Daniel said a movement was started in 1827 by Mrs. Sarah J. Hale for establishment of a definite day for Thanksgiving.

"Each year she would write to the president and the governors asking them that the last Thursday of November be set aside," he said. "By 1859, her efforts had established the day she advocated in thirty states."

What It Means

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—There's a story, or rather several stories, behind President Truman's new flag. He broke out the new flag some days ago for the benefit of a press and radio conference. It wasn't much of a ceremony, as White House ceremonies ordinarily go, but it will make more than a footnote in the history of our national flags.

As flag-followers no doubt know by now, the new flag is the presidential coat-of-arms in color, surrounded by a circle of 48 white stars, on a field of blue. What they may not know is that the new presidential flag, as well as the old one officially adopted 29 years ago by President Wilson, were in some measure due to the doodling of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Before 1918, both the Army and Navy had their own flags for the commander in chief. At that time, President Wilson commissioned two young men to work on designs for a presidential flag that would represent both the Army and Navy. These two young men were Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt and Commander Byron McCandless. What they produced was a coat of arms (the stylized American eagle, with wings spread, a striped shield over its body and clasp in its right claw an olive branch and in its left a cluster of arrows) with one white star in each corner of the flag.

THIS did well enough until the spring of 1945, when one of the original designers, President

Roosevelt, got to thinking that the newly created five-star fleet admirals and generals of the Army had five stars in their flags, while the commander in chief had only four. He called in Vice Admiral Wilson Brown (note how thoroughly the Navy has dominated the presidential flag picture) and ordered up a new flag.

Admiral Brown tossed the problem right back to McCandless, now a commodore in charge of the naval repair base at San Diego. The McCandless designs arrived at the White House after President Roosevelt's death, but President Truman was as interested as his predecessor.

Out of the discussions over designs came the suggestion from President Truman himself that the flag have 48 stars.

OUT of the discussions also came an interesting change in the presidential seal and coat of arms. For some reason unknown now, the eagle on the presidential seal had been facing to its own left since 1880, when it came into official use under President Rutherford B. Hayes.

This is not only contrary to heraldic custom, but as was pointed out by Chief of the heraldic section of the Army, Arthur DuBois, it had no basis in law and originally probably was an erroneous rendering of the Great Seal of the United States.

When it was further argued that the eagle should face the peaceful olive branch and not the warlike symbol of the cluster of arrows, the decision to twist the eagle's neck from left to right by executive order was settled.

Union Service Is Planned At Youngsville

Youngsville, Nov. 19—Union Thanksgiving services will be held in the Methodist church at 7:30 Wednesday evening Nov. 21st. Everyone in the community is invited. Rev. J. L. Strong will bring the Thanksgiving preaching message. Rev. Earl Carlson and Rev. E. W. Chitester will assist in the service. There will be special music including a double quartette from the Methodist choir.

LIGHTNING STRIKES BARN Lightning struck the barn of Mr. and Mrs. William Crippen of York Hill, at about eleven o'clock Saturday evening setting the building on fire. The live stock were gotten out of the building but grain and other crops were lost as the building quickly burned to the ground.

The home which is not far away was not burned. There was a little insurance on the barn which will partly cover the loss. The barn was several miles from Youngsville but located as it is on a hill lighted up the sky and was seen by Youngsville residents.

SELF-MEDICATION IS DANGEROUS

● The human body is the most complicated mechanism ever created. Not all of its processes are thoroughly understood even by those who devote their lives to a study of them. It is not surprising, therefore, that persons without medical training who attempt to diagnose and prescribe for their own serious ills often do themselves irreparable damage. Have respect for your body. You can never get another. When illness comes consult a physician . . . a licensed M.D. He is a specialist in his line just as we are in the business of filling his prescriptions.

Helen Olson Bride Of Paul Gary In 1st Methodist Rite

Mr. and Mrs. J. Theodore Olson, 108 Parker street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to Paul Gary, son of Mrs. Ellen Gary, 203 Prospect street.

The double ring ceremony witnessed by the immediate families, was performed at ten o'clock Saturday morning in the First Methodist church, Rev. Wayne Furman officiating. Evelyn Wolstencroft, organist, played as the guests were assembling and during the ceremony.

The bride chose black accessories with a suit of green wool and her shoulder corsage was of red roses. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. William R. Dove, who wore a black pin-stripe suit, black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

Thomas S. Gary, of Philadelphia, was his brother's best man.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for an extended wedding trip.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and attended Edinboro State Teachers College. She is now a member of the faculty at East street school building.

Mr. Gary, also a local high school graduate, has recently returned from 20 months' service in the South Pacific with the 118th Naval Construction Battalion.

The bride-elect has been honored with a number of parties, her hostesses being the Seneca and East street teachers; Mrs. Jack Shipman and Mrs. Robert W. Schwartz; Mrs. Robert H. Sandbladt; Mrs. William R. Dove and Mrs. Norman J. Olson; Mrs. Ellen Gary gave a buffet dinner in honor of the couple.

Beatrice Brown Is Wed Thursday To Arlington Peterson

The Presbyterian church at North Warren was the scene of a pretty wedding at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, when Beatrice Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Jackson Run, was united in marriage with Arlington Peterson, of Russell RD 1. Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attendants were Frances Brown, sister of the bride, and William Birt, who was his cousin's best man.

The bride wore a blue suit, with brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses, and her bridesmaid wore a pink rose corsage with a suit of robin egg blue.

After the ceremony, the families and friends of the couple returned to the bride's home for a lovely reception. The bridal table was decorated with a basket of white pumpkins, with candles and the wedding cake, with places for nine at the table.

Later in the evening the couple left for a short wedding trip and, upon their return, will be at home with the bride's parents for a time.

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was given by her sister, Mrs. Gladys Gebhart, Lander.

Janet Duncan To Wed Flying Capt.

Mr. and Mrs. William Duncan announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Janet, to Captain Byron E. McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McKenzie, of Akeley.

The announcement was made at a tea given by Mrs. Duncan Sunday afternoon at 607 Madison avenue. About 40 guests attended and each was presented with a pair of silver pilot's wings, with Janet and Byron, December 8, 1945, written on them.

The color scheme was in yellow and white, with yellow pompoms for the centerpiece and Mrs. Helen Morse and Miss Betty Jane Anderson presiding.

The wedding will take place in the First Methodist church on Saturday, December 8, at 7:30 p. m., the bride observing open church.

Warren E. Miller Tells Of "Amish"

Mrs. William M. Hill conducted the regular meeting of the Community Service Department at the Woman's Club Monday afternoon introducing Warren E. Miller, of the high school faculty, whose subject was "The Amish".

He told how a people, living in the 20th century are influenced by their religious customs and beliefs to such extent as to make them part of the 15th century.

Mr. Miller gave an average cross section view of their consistency in observing all their old religious teachings, religious beliefs, standards, and their quaint customs, showing that seldom will the pages of history reveal such long and faithful adherence to a religion. He told how it may seem autocratic to us but that they follow the Amish dictates unquestionably for it is the faith their forefathers chose to adopt.

Mrs. Leon Laskaris was hostess for tea which followed, with Miss Mabel Abbott and Miss Mabel Siglin presiding at a prettily decorated table.

Announcement was made that Mrs. S. L. Meyer will present "Gay Nineties School Declamations" for the meeting of Dramatic Department next Monday afternoon.

MOORE-SHERMAN RITES ANNOUNCED

Mrs. F. W. Fladry announces the marriage of her sister, Laura Mae Sherman, to Sherman Moore, on October 20 at Smethport. They were unattended and, following a visit in Erie, are residing on Jackson Run road.

RUSSELL

Russell, Nov. 19—Over eighty people gathered at the Cable Hollow church house Tuesday evening to welcome the following soldiers who have returned from the war: Lewis Sears, Thomas Leathers, Willard Fellows, Robert ascos, Ivan Wilson, and Richard Burch. A supper was served after which the Rev. Mr. Vrooman of the United Brethren church gave a talk. Mrs. Howard Fox was in charge of the music, each honor guest gave a short talk.

The Men's Bible class met at their new room in the basement for the regular monthly business meeting and social time. These officers were elected for ensuing year: Wayne Fay, president; vice president, John Ellis; secretary, Gerry Briggs; treasurer, Clyde Briggs. It was voted to have a dedication of their new room with a program and speaker at the regular meeting in December.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Haines attended the funeral services of P. Price at Jamestown Monday.

and Mrs. C. U. Briggs were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lauffenburger at Warren Sunday.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Circle has been postponed until Friday Nov. 23rd. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. H. Vermilyea.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walsh and son William of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. William Rahm of Jamestown, N. Y., spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Witz.

Drama of Suspense
Promised By Coach
Of Players' Club

The announcement that "Nine Girls" will be presented on December 6 and 7 implied either a coming-out party or a baseball exhibition. Instead, "Nine Girls" are the characters in a drama of suspense which the Warren Players compare with their memorable "Kind Lady", insofar as the atmosphere of chilling terror is concerned.

Director Betty Rice might well use the words of Hamlet's father to describe her production: "A tale whose lightest word would shiver up its soul, freeze the young blood—make the knotted and coiled locks to part, and each particular hair to stand on end."

But there the comparison must end, because "Nine Girls" has also an abundance of laughs to relieve the moments of terror. There is a combination of feminine fury and fun that demonstrates again that the female of the species is more deadly than the male—in this instance, nine times more deadly.

The plot of the play is built around the dramatic events facing a group of sorority girls during a week-end in the California mountains. The production in its prologue and two acts calls upon almost all of the emotions human flesh is heir to and lends itself well to the versatile talents of Director Rice, Mrs. Rice, whose successes in earlier plays have demonstrated her proficiency as a director, has high praise for her cast in "Nine Girls". She reports that her cast has everything—that is, everything but a man—and that rehearsals for the December production are already at an advanced stage.

Further details of the play's story cannot be revealed at this time, but the Players promise further information about the members of the cast and about the progress of the final weeks of rehearsal. In all events, playgoers will do well to plan now for attendance at the production of "Nine Girls".

Open House For
Emil G. Johnsen

About 100 persons gathered Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emil G. Johnsen, 124 Russell street, to be guests at the open house held in celebration of their 40th wedding anniversary.

The affair was arranged by their three children, Mrs. Marshall Douglass, of Buffalo, N. Y., Mrs. Hugh McKelvey, of Russell, and Edward Johnsen, of Warren. Guests came from Buffalo and Jamestown, N. Y., Corry and Clymer, N. Y.

A yellow and green color thought was used for the bride's table, centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, and presided over by Mrs. Clinton Hildum, sister of Mr. Johnsen, and Mrs. Hilmar Ross, sister of Mrs. Johnsen. The bride of 40 years wore a lovely corsage of mums.

The Johnsens have been lifelong residents of the community and are active in many church and lodge circles. Mr. Johnsen is employed by the Gamble Building Corporation.

With Messrs. Schubert

Richard Rapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rapp, carries around in his breast pocket the proof that events happen quickly in this speeded-up age in which we are living. On November 2nd he auditioned with the Messrs. Schubert for three shows being staged by the Schubert Repertoire Company and on November 3rd he had in hand a nine-months contract and was deep in rehearsals for "Rose Marie", "The Merry Widow" and "Countess Maritza". His parents and brother, Jack, with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stearns and son, Jimmy, were in the audience (along with a number of others from the home town) when the revived productions were premiered at the Erlanger in Buffalo last week. The company left Sunday for Canada and will later tour the United States, appearing, it is understood, in the larger cities from Maine to California. Richard does a specialty dance in "Countess Maritza" and dances and sings with the chorus in the other two shows. Public appearance and the stage are nothing new to young Rapp. Starting out in dramatics while still in high school, when he had special instruction from Anna Louise Kahl, he appeared for four seasons with the Clare Tree Major companies and, after his return from two and one-half years in the armed forces, went to New York for additional study in tap, aerobic and ballroom dancing, public speaking and voice. His start on a dancing career was made in the Williams school here, Mrs. Williams describing him as her first male pupil and a most conscientious student. Appearing in two of her special recitals, he MC'd for one of her productions. During his service career, which started on at Sampson and Portsmouth, he was a pharmacist's mate in the navy, serving one year in England and being transferred to the Marines for return to the States and discharge at Camp Le Jeune, N. C.

PAK Dinner-Dance
Is Friday Evening

Reservations are coming in fast for PAK's Thanksgiving dinner-dance to be held Friday evening when Chauncey E. Davis, former boys' secretary at the Warren 'Y', will be guest speaker.

PAK members will be home for the holiday and who have made reservations include Beth Smith, Maxine Beebe, Nick Gerachino, Nan Schwartz, Elmore Peters, Juliana Hamold and Gladys Johnson. It will certainly look like old times to see these members seated at Club "17's" table.

The program will be in charge of John Knapp, toastmaster, and will include a violin solo, "Stardust", by Jack Harrington; two vocal solos, "Spring Fever" and "That's For You", Teresa Pini; novelty number, Fred Pritz; vocal solo, "Where My Caravan Has Rested", Charles Sires.

PAK members who have not already made reservations may still do so by calling Adele Erickson, ticket committee chairman, at 1056-M, or by seeing one of the ticket committee before Wednesday evening, when final reservations must be in.

PAK is making this holiday activity possible by having a party at the Club "17", Judge and Mrs. Allison D. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Yeager, Harold Baughart and Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, PAK directors in charge of dances, are well pleased with the preparations made for this party. At dinner is planned to seat seniors at the Club "17" table, along with those who are home from school juniors and sophomores at the "prep" table and freshmen and eighth graders at the "Green Cap" table, especially decorated for this newest group in PAK. Harry Summers' orchestra will play for the dancing until 11:30.

Personal Paragraphs

Mrs. H. L. Banghart and Mrs. David Beatty, Conevango avenue, are spending the Thanksgiving holiday and next two weeks at Clifton Springs.

Miss Eunice Alexander, Franklin street, left this morning to spend Thanksgiving with friends in Chicago.

Mrs. Louise Bailey, Pennsylvania avenue, west, will spend the holiday period visiting in Erie.

Mrs. Henry C. Kerlin, 124 Watson street, left Sunday for New York City to greet her husband, Lt. Col. Kerlin, who arrived this morning on the "Trits Victory" ship from the European theatre, where he has been for the past three years. They will return to Warren following a visit with the officer's family in Roanoke, Va.

Mrs. C. I. McCracken, Pennsylvania avenue, east, has left for New York City where she will visit for a couple of weeks with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Driscoll.

Wendell H. Roller, of Palo Alto, Calif., is here for a ten-day visit with his cousin, Mrs. Nelson A. Johnson, North Warren. Mr. Roller was recently honorably discharged after four years of service in the navy, having been a member of the original crew of the Alabama and spending his entire tour on that ship.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ball and family, Hazel street, are leaving tomorrow to spend Thanksgiving with relatives in Buffalo, returning home on Sunday.

State Prepares for Worst
In Snow Removal Program

The state highways department, recalling last winter's snows, made plans "for the worst" in laying down its 1945-46 snow and ice removal program, L. J. Curran, chief maintenance engineer, said today, at Harrisburg.

"The first snow last winter came December 1 and continued through to March," Curran recalled, "but we don't expect anything like that again."

He reported the department has 1040 trucks and 80 tractors of its own available right now and plans to rent an additional 1000 trucks and perhaps a hundred tractors depending on conditions.

Erection of 13,000,000 feet of snow fence along state highways started Nov. 1 while in addition, 25 to 30 miles of natural fence, shrubs and trees—protect other highway stretches from drifting snow.

As to personnel, the regular 10,000 men on the department's payroll will be available for snow removal and cinderling as the need develops in the coming winter to be supplemented by other workmen should conditions warrant.

Stock piles of cinders are being stored at strategic points, he added, to keep highways open during ice storms.

The highways department spent approximately $7,300,000 clearing highways last winter while the average cost of winter programs runs about $3,000,000.

HAS PROPOSAL

Judge Allison D. Wade, speaking at the Monday night meeting of North Warren PTA, presented some startling facts on the number of juveniles appearing before him in court, not only those charged with some phase of delinquency, but many others who are being neglected by their parents. The judge's proposal to combat this increase in juvenile court cases was organization of neighborhood groups for the promotion of activities which will keep these young people occupied and out of mischief which seems to come so easily to hand.

GUILTY OF CHARGE

Arraigned by State Police before Justice T. M. Greenlund, Monday afternoon on a charge of failure to disclose identity at the scene of an accident, C. M. Small, 22 Seneca street, Oil City, pleaded guilty and posted bond for appearance at the December term of court. The charge grew out of an auto accident which occurred about 5:20 p. m. Sunday near the Lily Pond crossing on Route 6, west of Warren. Small admitted to police, corroborating previous evidence, that he was driving on the wrong side of the highway when he sideswiped a car driven by Christopher D. Pasquale, 219 East First street, Jamestown, N. Y., and went on his way without stopping.

GIANT OWL CAPTURED

John Diebold, maintenance man at the Lord Manufacturing Co., at Erie, opened the cleanout door at the bottom of the 100-foot Lord plant smoke stack the other day, and was greeted by a pair of glowing saucer-like eyes. Glowing saucer-like eyes, peering from the stack not being customary, Diebold summoned aid. After a bit of cautious probing, a giant "know-no" emerged, blinked sleepily, and permitted his rescuers to incorporate him in a large carton. Lord officials, lacking accommodations for large owls, summoned Glenwood Zoo attendants, who claimed the prize and removed him to their largest cage. However, the life of imprisonment was evidently too much for the bird, for he was found dead Friday morning. The bird will be stuffed and returned to the zoo, where visitors may view his 62-inch wing spread, and two-foot length.

Hospital bound...

Nothing we can ever do can adequately repay the more than 250,000 American heroes who died that we might live.

But we can and must provide hospital care and treatment for the hundreds of thousands who are maimed and crippled—some in body, some in mind.

To do less would be a lasting reproach to the free institutions of democracy for which they fought.

THE MONEY COSTS WILL BE HIGH

Hospitalization of our wounded will require high amounts of money. This is only one reason for the Victory Loan. Millions of men must be fed, clothed, transported home, for remember, until they are restored to civilian life the war is not over for them. And it's not over for you either till you do your share.

County Fives Begin Drills For Campaign

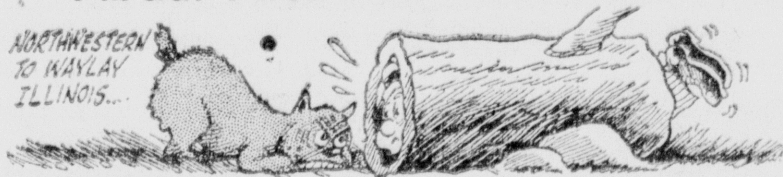

The three county basketball fives have gone into action according to information from the various schools, and all three expect to have fairly good seasons, especially since the lifting of gas rationing.

Youngsville High, under the watchful eye of Artie Amann, got under way November 5, with both boys and girls teams working out. Some 40 boys reported for the first practices, but the squad is now undergoing a cut. The Eagles open their season against Warren November 30. On December 7, they meet Pleasantville at home, then go to Tionesta on the 14th of December.

L. O. "Lo" Eisenhauer, head mentor at Sheffield, had 20 candidates out for his initial call, and expects more to report as the practices increase. Eisenhauer is strengthened by the return of two veterans, Dave Eisenhauer and Mike Trubie, both forwards who will aid the Wolverine campaign extensively. Sheffield opens its season on December 7 with Tionesta, thus launching an 18-game card. There are two open dates which the Wolverines hope to fill, also. Sheffield is included in the Upper Allegheny Mountain League, which includes Kane, Wilcox, St. Marys, Johnsonburg, Ridgway and several others.

The Tidioute coach has issued his first call for a season which opens December 11 against Tionesta. The Tidioute squad will be an entirely new team and will enter a reorganized Allegheny Mountain league, which includes eight teams. Tidioute has 14 contests scheduled, and is eager to fill two open dates, February 1 and 22. Two lettermen, Yeager and Nicholson, will lead the Orange and Black this year.

Postwar Sports

Already you are beginning to get a glimpse of sports in the post-war era, and already you are beginning to realize that all kinds of sports will reach a peak never before anticipated.

Last year in the YMCA cage loop, there were five teams, with players ranging from high school fellows to others much older. Lack of players and teams could then be blamed upon wartime handicaps. Now, when the Y is planning another season, there are ten teams registered to let fly next

Monday night when the season officially opens. The return of many of our fighting veterans has brought a flood of sports interest, as can be seen in this YMCA league alone.

Bowling has been on the steady increase even during the war.

When the fellows went into service, women took over their places on the lanes and became interested in the sport. Now, both the women and returning servicemen, as well as the regular bowlers, are again engaged in the sport, and they're making it boom.

In all probability, another bowling establishment here would further increase the interest.

Boxing, for many years a behind-the-scenes practice here, has been taken up by a number of young men, especially discharged vets. Frank Walters, well known here to many boxing fans, has been holding ring classes at the

YMCA for some time. Frank, an

Irving boy recently discharged after serving many months overseas, has quite a string of youths following the game and possibly

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By MERRILL BLOSSER

COME ON, SUGAR, LET'S SHOVE OFF!

IS JUNE WITH YOU?

NO--I'M DATING YOOHOO!

THEN I REFUSE TO GO! I WANT DOUBLE-CROSS JUNE!

BUT, HILDA, MY ROMANCE WITH JUNE WENT PHT-TT!

WELL, I WON'T GO OUT WITH LARD UNTIL YOU START GOING OUT WITH JUNE AGAIN!

A SIT-DOWN STRIKE!

A FINE THING! YOUR ROMANCE GET TORPEDGED, AND I GET WHAMMED BY THE CONCUSSION!

WHEN YOU TWO WOLVES LOOK THAT INNOCENT SOME-THING IS UP GIVE!

SHEFFIELD NEWS

Sheffield, Nov. 18—The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary held their annual Amistice Day dinner party on November 11 at the Legion Home. Promptly at 6:30, one hundred and thirty guests were seated at tables lighted with candles and fittingly decorated in red, white and blue. The invocation was given by Reverend P. N. Taylor.

The program was in charge of Miss Eva Brown, in the absence of Auxiliary president, Mrs. John Burns, gave the address of welcome, and introduced the speaker, James Hindman of Oil City. Miss Joan Ofsnyder of Oil City gave a splendid twirling exhibition.

AUXILIARY

The American Legion met on November 12. Reports were given on the Inter-County Council meeting by the delegates. The following obligations were ordered paid: Child Welfare, $12.00; rehabilitation, $23.00; Junior baseball, $3.00; and National defense $1.00. Membership with a hundred and ten members with paid membership. Fifty dollars paid to the unrestricted fund for use in the Veterans' hospitals. A hundred dollar Victory Bond was bought during the drive. A card party will be held later this month. The December meeting will be preceded by a turkey dinner and a Christmas party, each member will bring a twenty-five cent gift. The maple coffee table was raffled and won by Sam Ewing of Brookston. Refreshments were served by Misses Agnes Lundquist, Madeline and Mae Magnuson, Elsie Nelson, Theresa Johnson, and Blenda Hinkley.

Restrictions On Whisky To Be Lightened

Partial lifting of Pennsylvania's whiskey rationing program was in prospect today following announcement by the State Liquor Control Board at Harrisburg that it will place 125,000 cases of whiskey on unrestricted sale in state stores Nov. 26.

Board Chairman Frederick T. Gelder said the unrationed whiskey includes some "pretty well known" brands but that restrictions must remain on bonded whiskeys and some other brands because there "is still not enough available to go around."

The board, however, continued two-week ration periods through the winter holiday season and upped the individual allotment from a fifth to a fifth of a gallon and a pint for those starting Monday, December 10, and Monday, December 24.

The new ration periods will be: First, Monday, Nov. 26, through Saturday, Dec. 8; second, Monday, Dec. 10, through Saturday, Dec. 22; and Monday, Dec. 24, through Saturday, Jan. 5. For rationed whiskeys, customers will use war ration book three as before.

During all three periods, the board added, licensees will be allotted 90 per cent of their former normal purchases. Rationing restrictions do not apply to brandy, rum, gin or wines or any state store merchandise other than whiskey.

Chapter 5
[Sunday 1:50 a.m. to 3:40 a.m.]

FOR a long time everything she looked upon seemed to be at the far end of a lighted well. This must be she, she thought, curiously, underneath the dazed state was a sense of being free, a lightening of the tension that she had been under. It was as if the thing she had dreaded was over and regardless of what it was, tightened nerves were released.

There was a strange unreality about Robey's death. Robey, with his strength, his sudden unreasoned flares of anger, the hidden, secret, current that flowed just beneath the vivid personality with which he faced the world. He was the last one of all the group about him who seemed destined for death.

The feeling of a weird detachment from actuality carried her through the confusion that followed her appearance in the salon. Later she was able to recall some of the things that happened but at the time it was a blur made up of sound and movement. She remembered that Jerry was standing unsteadily near the window and she wondered how he had been able to get up. Dr. Wandell carried Alma to the lounge, a quiet couch that was between the doors on the south side of the room and he held her head over the side.

Other persons were in the room now. The manager and superintendent, she recognized. Then police came. Many of them. They asked questions of every one and particularly one question. Who was in the salon when it happened? No one admitted being there.

It didn't seem odd at first. The police finally accepted it as a fact. But a persistent little hammer was tapping at the back of Julia's head—something was wrong. Then suddenly she knew with startling certainty that Robey never took the most dramatic action of his life without an audience. She could imagine his taking a death leap in full sight of a gasping crowd, spurred by some traitor complex in his queer mind, but falling silently in the night with no one to view his death—that was against all probability.

"You can't question her now," Dr. Wandell was saying. "She fainted and she isn't strong enough to undergo any further strain. I'm going to take her home."

He was talking about Alma who still lay full length on the banquette, her open eyes the only sign that she was conscious. The doctor's voice was positive and a little angry.

"But she's probably the one who knows how it happened," insisted a deep voice.

"You can find out in the morning, Sergeant." The sentence was clipped off, a final verdict.

IT WASN'T more than five minutes later that the whole stumbling investigation was brought up short. A young man came into the salon and took over. The sergeant voiced one word with relief, "Inspector." He went to the door and spoke in low tones to the newcomer while the others watched openly. To Julia the man's face was familiar but she couldn't place him. He was slightly above medium height and had a small neat head topped with thick brown hair. He carried his chin high so that his short straight nose tilted upward. He doesn't look like a policeman, she thought. When the sergeant was finished the Inspector came toward her. She saw his expression change from one of set purpose to wonderment. She had seen the same faces of men who first saw her. It was a tribute to her beauty. Usually she was more irritated than flattered but this time she was vaguely pleased.

A man with an open notebook and the sergeant were back of him. Frank moved to her side and she was grateful.

"Mrs. Baker, I'm Inspector Venable. I'm sorry to bother you at such a time but you realize we must gather all the facts at once."

"Of course. Won't you sit down?" She thought fleetingly that she sounded like her mother who was gravely courteous under any circumstances.

The Inspector sat down opposite her in a chair Frank moved there for him.

"When did you last see your husband, Mrs. Baker?"

"Not long before he—before I heard Miss Dillard cry out. I came through here from the foyer and went to my room. He and Miss Dillard were standing at the window."

"What did you do?"

The grey eyes were searching hers and she wondered if he thought she should be weeping as Grace was.

"I went on into my room over there. I thought Miss Pratt was there but she wasn't. I took an aspirin tablet and was repairing my makeup when I heard some one walk across the floor. That was just before Miss Dillard screamed."

As soon as the words were out she had a sense of danger. It must have come from the quick tensing of muscles in the face of the man opposite her. His next words, however, were indifferent.

"You must have good ears to hear footsteps on this rug."

"But they were on the glass border of the floor," she explained.

She wished she could remember those footsteps more clearly but she hadn't paid much attention. She tried to recall whether they were heavy or light but she couldn't.

"They seemed to be hurried," she said suddenly, out of her meditation.

PLAY PRESENTED

The young people of the United Brethren church deserve much credit for their effort and fine presentation of the character building play, a one act drama, The Toast, Friday evening Nov. 16 in the U. B. church before a large audience who could see the humor as well as the serious phases of the play.

Mrs. V. D. Smith also deserves congratulations for her efforts in directing the play, which describes a day in a newspaper office and showed the influence for good which may come when a paper works for the moral welfare of a community.

Young people in the cast were Louis Crippen, editor; Mildred Welsh, secretary to the editor; Arthur Woodard, business man with not too good a record; Stewart Smith, ace reporter; Robert Freeborough, Italian type; Harriet Sullivan, circulation manager of the paper.

Other features of the evening program were: Devotions lead by Mrs. Ekins; opening prayer, Rev. E. W. Chitester; a very fine chalk talk with a fine message, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Haight; vocal solo, with guitar accompaniment, Mr. Hought; trombone solo, Dale Hillard; selections on the solovox, Miss Treva McKinney; closing prayer, Rev. J. L. Strong.

Mrs. V. D. Smith presided at the program. A generous collection was received which will be used for Scientific Temperance work in Youngville schools.

Following the program members of the W.C.T.U. gave a reception to the members of the cast and pastors present. Light refreshments were served from an attractive buffet table decorated in Thanksgiving motifs with committee, Mrs. Gilbert Sanford, chairman, Mrs. Theodore Abraham, Mrs. Floyd Conklin and Miss Knapp.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Troop 10, of Sheffield observed their eighteenth anniversary of the beginning of Girl Scouts in Sheffield, in the form of a birthday dinner which was held in the Methodist church parlors, November 14, sixty-eight members were present to enjoy the dinner and the program during the evening.

The program consisted of the following: Piano solo, "O Solo Mio"; Madeline Slater; piano solo, "Ballade"; Annette Davidson; piano solo, "Bridal Chorus"; Teresa Slater; trumpet solo, "Rosary"; Sally O'Leary; piano solo, "The Lost Chord"; Mary Slater; piano solo, "Dreams of Twilight"; Betty Gallagher; piano solo, "Busy Sawmill"; Loretta Likens.

Each person introduced herself and told something about her activities in scouting. Troop 10 is made up of girls and leaders both of Lincoln and Washington Schools.

One of the nicest events of the evening was the lighting of the eighteen candles and singing their birthday song.

Our guests from out of town were Mrs. Althea Correll and Miss Mary Alice Clark, both Girl Scout Executives of Warren County. It was announced that Shirley Stover had become a First Class Scout.

The Girl Scouts wish to thank Mrs. Harold Stover for making the lovely cake, and Mrs. George Christian for decorating the beautiful cake. The Girl Scouts wish to thank the parents of the girls for providing such a bountiful dinner, and also we wish to express our thanks to the Official Board and Mrs. Hilda Reed for permitting us to hold the birthday dinner in the church parlors.
